Update Summer Diversity Program
The budget for the Summer Diversity Program has been revised for the first year. There were some stipend issues for faculty pay and more money was needed for food and transportation. Issues with transportation will need to be run by Risk Management in Bloomington. The group discussed circulating applications to the community schools and churches. Groups need to be contacted to see if more applications are needed. A mass e-mail to faculty and staff will be sent to get the word out about the summer programs. A maximum of 15 students is needed for the middle school program. More recruitment is needed to be able to fill this program by the deadline of May 15. Possibly included counties like Grant, Cass and Clinton would help bring in more minority applicants. Gas cards could be used for transportation.

IU KAN Update
Administrative Council endorsed this program, but Sharon Calhoon said the program did not fit the criteria for CTLA funding. Sarah Heath and Christina Downey would have to find external funding for this program.

Update on Diversity Award
The Diversity Award subcommittee met and has made a selection. That selection will be kept confidential until the Fall Convocation.

Diversity Committee Report
This report has the same templates as last year. Gerry will draft something to send out to the committee for review and input from committee members. The report is due on August 3.
