A top-quality team of internationally recognized Kelley faculty mentors provides the cornerstone for one of the nation’s leading part-time MBA programs. Evening programs in both Indianapolis and Carmel offer central Indiana business professionals convenient access to an MBA program at Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis. With a full slate of challenging and unique experiential learning opportunities and a comprehensive professional development program spanning all three years, Kelley’s Evening MBA programs is a logical choice for those with high expectations and the motivation to learn and succeed.

Evening MBA PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Career development opportunities – Kelley’s program is distinguished by integrated professional development services and a highly successful MBA enterprise program, offering students a chance to gain real-world experience in strategic business problem solving and consulting.
- Two central Indiana locations – Three hundred sixty students are accepted into the Evening MBA program each year—60 each semester in Indianapolis and 40 every fall in Carmel.
- Joint degree programs – A growing list of dual degree programs allows professionals in medicine, law, science, technology, health administration and engineering to earn MBA degrees at Kelley.

With Kelley training and education behind me, I believe I will have the best possible chance of landing the right job when I graduate. The competition is strong in today’s job market, so I want the best educational advantage—and that’s Kelley.

— Chris Potts, Management and International Studies major, England

For information on applying to Kelley, please consult the school’s Web site.

- Undergraduate program – www.kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/apply/
- Evening MBA program – www.kelley.iupui.edu/evemba/apply/
- MSA program – www.kelley.iupui.edu/msa/apply/

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

For undergraduate students, Kelley Indianapolis offers a variety of scholarships based on academic merit or financial need. A list of annual Kelley scholarships is available at kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/scholarships/. Undergraduate and graduate students may apply for all financial assistance open to IUPUI students. For more information about campus financial assistance, visit www.iupui.edu/~finaid/.

For graduate students, the Financial Aid Office administers graduate fellowships, loans, and grants. Kelley also offers an MBA scholarship for students who are taking a full course load. For more information about graduate financial assistance, visit www.kelley.iupui.edu/aid.

With Kelley training and education behind me, I believe I will have the best possible chance of landing the right job when I graduate. The competition is strong in today’s job market, so I want the best educational advantage—and that’s Kelley.

— Shannon Satterfield, Consultant, E.J. Stahl & Associates; Evening MBA Student

For graduate students, the Financial Aid Office administers graduate fellowships, loans, and grants. Kelley also offers an MBA scholarship for students who are taking a full course load. For more information about graduate financial assistance, visit www.kelley.iupui.edu/aid.

A Guide to KELLEY INDIANAPOLIS

www.kelley.iupui.edu
A DYNAMIC URBAN CAMPUS

TOP FACULTY

A DYNAMIC URBAN CAMPUS

Kelley's nationally recognized faculty members publish groundbreaking research in top journals. Landmark rulings by Associate Professor of Finance Randy Heron on stock option backdating were featured prominently in The Wall Street Journal, national news networks and other major business publications. The Wall Street Journal also published an article highlighting Kelley Accounting Professor Eric Johnson's class project designed to help local small businesses analyze the security of their computer networks and information systems.

It's all right here — Juan Benitez, Finance major, Dominican Republic

According to an exit survey, more than 97 percent of graduating seniors would recommend Kelley to others. More than 90 percent of Kelley Indianapolis students surveyed say the school's instructors are accessible and responsive. Kelley is one of just 500 programs to be accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business—AACSB—the premier agency granting accreditation to business schools worldwide. Kelley is one of just 500 programs to be accredited by AACSB— the premier agency granting accreditation to business schools worldwide.

Business students can expect to find all of this—and more—at the Indiana University Kelley School of Business, located on the campus of Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI). Whether at the undergraduate or graduate level, Kelley is a leader in preparing professionals for exciting, high-potential careers in business.

A NATIONALY RECOGNIZED BUSINESS SCHOOL

REAL-WORLD EXPERIENCE

MINOR IN BUSINESS

The Kelley minor in business is a flexible program designed to give non-business students a broad, basic understanding of the major functional areas in the world of business. It can be earned while completing requirements for a bachelor’s degree in another school on the IUPUI campus.

MINOR IN BUSINESS

Kelley’s undergraduate program features instructors with current business experience, project-based collaborations with local companies, opportunities for study abroad and an active corporate internship program.

Students may choose one or more of the following undergraduate majors:

- Accounting
- Finance
- Human Resource Management
- Marketing
- Supply Chain Management
- Information Systems
- International Studies
- Computer Information Systems
- Entrepreneurship

Bringing the real world up close

Outside the classroom, Kelley professors lend their industry expertise to central Indiana’s small and mid-size businesses through the school’s one-of-a-kind Main Street initiative—a series of innovative programs offered in collaboration with the Greater Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce and designed to boost the growth and prosperity of smaller firms.

Through its active Career Placement Office, Kelley provides students and alumni with resources and guidance as they engage in career exploration, internships, professional job searches and ongoing career development.

Honors program — The Kelley Honors Program is a way for highly motivated undergraduate students to capitalize on their academic experience through smaller classes, more opportunities for lively classroom discussion and increased interaction with business faculty.

World-class faculty excel at research and teaching

Kelley faculty use their knowledge, skills and imagination to give students a real taste of what they’ll be doing in the business world.

- Sean Fredley, Finance major, Dominican Republic

With a strong focus on experiential learning, Kelley professors take advantage of the school’s focus on research and teaching to create learning opportunities for students. From Kelley’s ImagineCar project—where student entrepreneurs work with manufacturers to develop the concept of ‘Car to Central’—to several national news broadcasts and other business publications, students have the chance to participate in projects with real-time strategic consulting assignments through the MBA enterprise program, the school brings the world of business into focus—and relevance—for students at every educational level.

Faculty members consult with leading companies, while at the same time placing high priority on teaching and one-on-one interaction with students. By bringing their research insights into the classroom, Kelley instructors put students on front-foot of new developments and learnings in the field of business. Faculty members consult with leading companies, while at the same time placing high priority on teaching and one-on-one interaction with students. By bringing their research insights into the classroom, Kelley instructors put students on front-foot of new developments and learnings in the field of business.

Undegraduate program

Students can receive IU credit while studying abroad. Opportunities range from study abroad to international internships, providing students with real-world experience, as well as cross-cultural perspectives that will put them ahead in the job market.

In addition, Kelley’s Career Services Office assists students in finding work while they’re still in school. Kelley offers more than 40 career-focused programs in which students can receive credit while studying abroad.

MINOR IN BUSINESS

KBbergren/Callahan, Marketing major, Bloomington, Indiana

Student internships, corporate placements and start-up opportunities are available to Kelley students throughout the United States and around the world. Kelley students have completed internships with Anderson Consulting, Ernst & Young, PricewaterhouseCoopers, Microsoft, Boeing, and numerous other major corporations.

The Kelley School of Business, located in both Bloomington and Indianapolis, is consistently cited as one of the top U.S. business schools.

Kelley’s nationally recognized faculty members publish groundbreaking research in top journals. Landmark rulings by Associate Professor of Finance Randy Heron on stock option backdating were featured prominently in The Wall Street Journal, national news networks and other major business publications. The Wall Street Journal also published an article highlighting Kelley Accounting Professor Eric Johnson's class project designed to help local small businesses analyze the security of their computer networks and information systems.

It’s all right here — Juan Benitez, Finance major, Dominican Republic

According to an exit survey, more than 97 percent of graduating seniors would recommend Kelley to others. More than 90 percent of Kelley Indianapolis students surveyed say the school's instructors are accessible and responsive. Kelley is one of just 500 programs to be accredited by AACSB— the premier agency granting accreditation to business schools worldwide.

Business students can expect to find all of this—and more—at the Indiana University Kelley School of Business, located on the campus of Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI). Whether at the undergraduate or graduate level, Kelley is a leader in preparing professionals for exciting, high-potential careers in business.

A NATIONALY RECOGNIZED BUSINESS SCHOOL

REAL-WORLD EXPERIENCE

MINOR IN BUSINESS

The Kelley minor in business is a flexible program designed to give non-business students a broad, basic understanding of the major functional areas in the world of business. It can be earned while completing requirements for a bachelor’s degree in another school on the IUPUI campus.

MINOR IN BUSINESS

Kelley’s undergraduate program features instructors with current business experience, project-based collaborations with local companies, opportunities for study abroad and an active corporate internship program.

Students may choose one or more of the following undergraduate majors:

- Accounting
- Finance
- Human Resource Management
- Marketing
- Supply Chain Management
- Information Systems
- International Studies
- Computer Information Systems
- Entrepreneurship

Bringing the real world up close

Outside the classroom, Kelley professors lend their industry expertise to central Indiana’s small and mid-size businesses through the school’s one-of-a-kind Main Street initiative—a series of innovative programs offered in collaboration with the Greater Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce and designed to boost the growth and prosperity of smaller firms.

Through its active Career Placement Office, Kelley provides students and alumni with resources and guidance as they engage in career exploration, internships, professional job searches and ongoing career development.

Honors program — The Kelley Honors Program is a way for highly motivated undergraduate students to capitalize on their academic experience through smaller classes, more opportunities for lively classroom discussion and increased interaction with business faculty.
A DYNAMIC URBAN CAMPUS

For business students who want it all—attending college in a city like Indianapolis offers a lot more opportunities than most college towns. I wanted to be able to get a variety of experiences while in school, and Kelley Indianapolis and IUPUI give me that chance.

—Karen Woods, Marketing major, Elkhart, Indiana

TOP FACULTY

Kelley faculty excel at research and teaching

Faculty members consult with leading companies, while at the same time placing high priority on teaching and one-on-one interaction with students. By bringing their research insights into the classroom, Kelley instructors put students at the forefront of new developments and breakthroughs in the field of business.

Outside the classroom, Kelley professors lead their industry expertise to central Indiana small and mid-size businesses through the school’s one-of-a-kind Black Dot initiative—an intensive series of innovative programs offered in collaboration with the Greater Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce and targeted to boost the growth and prosperity of smaller firms.

Faculty members consult with leading companies, while at the same time placing high priority on teaching and one-on-one interaction with students. By bringing their research insights into the classroom, Kelley instructors put students at the forefront of new developments and breakthroughs in the field of business.

Outside the classroom, Kelley professors lead their industry expertise to central Indiana small and mid-size businesses through the school’s one-of-a-kind Black Dot initiative—an intensive series of innovative programs offered in collaboration with the Greater Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce and targeted to boost the growth and prosperity of smaller firms.

kelley faculty use their knowledge, skills and imagination to give students a real taste of what they’ll be doing in the business world.

—Laura Bentley, Finance major, Indianapolis Republican

Kelley is one of just 500 programs to be accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB)—the premier agency granting accreditation to business schools worldwide.

The Kelley School of Business, located in both Bloomington and Indianapolis, is consistently cited as one of the top U.S. business schools.

Kelley is one of just 500 programs to be accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB)—the premier agency granting accreditation to business schools worldwide.

The Kelley School of Business, located in both Bloomington and Indianapolis, is consistently cited as one of the top U.S. business schools.

Kelley is one of just 500 programs to be accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB)—the premier agency granting accreditation to business schools worldwide.

The Kelley School of Business, located in both Bloomington and Indianapolis, is consistently cited as one of the top U.S. business schools.

Kelley is one of just 500 programs to be accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB)—the premier agency granting accreditation to business schools worldwide.

The Kelley School of Business, located in both Bloomington and Indianapolis, is consistently cited as one of the top U.S. business schools.

Kelley is one of just 500 programs to be accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB)—the premier agency granting accreditation to business schools worldwide.

The Kelley School of Business, located in both Bloomington and Indianapolis, is consistently cited as one of the top U.S. business schools.
B A DYNAMIC URBAN CAMPUS

Kelley faculty use their knowledge, skills and imagination to give students a real taste of what they’ll be doing in the business world.

—Juan Benitez, Finance major, Dominican Republic

Kelley's nationally recognized faculty members publish ground-breaking research in top journals. Landmark findings by Associate Professor of Finance Randy Heron on stock option backdating were featured prominently in The Wall Street Journal. Kelley Accounting Professor Michael Johnson's class project designed to help local small businesses analyze the security of their computer networks and information systems.

According to an exit survey, more than 97 percent of graduating seniors would recommend Kelley to others. Kelley students say the school's instructors are accessible and responsive. More than 90 percent of Kelley Indianapolis students surveyed say the school brings the world of business into focus—and relevance—for students at every educational level. Kelley's Integrative Core program gives undergraduates the opportunity to gain practical experience and real-world perspective. From project-based collaborations with local companies, opportunities to central Indiana businesses by offering students opportunities to gain practical experience and real-world perspectives.

Bringing the real world up close

With a strong focus on experiential learning, Kelley offers students hands-on advantages of a hands-on and hands-on experience through smaller classes, more opportunities for project-based collaborations with local companies, opportunities to gain practical experience and real-world perspective. The Kelley minor in business is a flexible program designed to give non-business students a broad, basic understanding of the major functional areas in the world of business. It can be earned while completing requirements for a bachelor's degree in another undergraduate major.

It's all right here

A NATIONALY RECOGNIZED BUSINESS SCHOOL

REAL-WORLD EXPERIENCE

TOP FACULTY

DYNAMIC URBAN CAMPUS

Kelley is one of just 500 programs to be accredited by the prestigious agency granting accreditation to business schools worldwide. The Kelley School of Business, located in both Bloomington and Indianapolis, is consistently cited as one of the top U.S. business schools.

It's all right here

A few quick facts about Kelley's tradition of excellence:

The Kelley school of business, located in both Bloomington and Indianapolis, is consistently cited as one of the top U.S. business schools.

- Kelley is one of just 500 programs to be accredited by the prestigious agency granting accreditation to business schools worldwide.

- Kelley's Integrative Core program gives undergraduates the opportunity to gain practical experience and real-world perspective.

- The Kelley minor in business is a flexible program designed to give non-business students a broad, basic understanding of the major functional areas in the world of business.

- The Kelley School of Business, located in both Bloomington and Indianapolis, is consistently cited as one of the top U.S. business schools.

- Kelley is one of just 500 programs to be accredited by the prestigious agency granting accreditation to business schools worldwide.
A top-quality team of internationally recognized Kelley faculty mentors provides the cornerstone for one of the nation’s leading part-time MBA programs. Evening programs in both Indianapolis and Carmel offer central Indiana business professionals convenient access to MBA programs of the highest caliber at reasonable cost. A full slate of challenging and unique experiential learning opportunities and a comprehensive professional development program span three years. Kelley’s Evening MBA program is a logical choice for those with high expectations and the motivation to learn and lead.

EVENING MBA PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

2. Career development opportunities—Kelley’s program is distinguished by integrated professional development services and a highly successful MBA enterprise program, offering students a chance to gain real-world experience in strategic business problem solving and consulting.
3. Two central Indiana locations—Thirteen hundred students are accepted into the Evening MBA program each year—60 each semester in Indianapolis and 40 every fall in Carmel.
4. Joint degree programs—A growing list of dual degree programs allows professionals in medicine, law, science, technology, health administration and engineering to earn MBA degrees at Kelley.

Be a part of a diverse community and join Kelley’s Master of Science in Accounting (MSA) program. Kelley’s MSA program is well known for its strong professional and instructional programs. Kelley’s MSA program is a logical choice for those with little or no background in the field. Based on their interest and career aspirations, MSA students can choose from numerous business electives in auditing and assurance, information systems and taxation.

MSA PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

1. Conceptual exam preparation—In recent years, Kelley MSA graduates achieved the third-highest score in the nation and the fifth-highest score in Indiana’s annual CPA exam.
2. Enhanced marketability—Courses completed to fulfill the CPA exam requirement may count toward the 30 hours needed for the MSA degree—preparing students for the exam and improving their marketability with an advanced degree.
3. Commanding career potential—Graduates of Kelley’s MSA program are working for all of the national public accounting firms and many of the city’s suburban and entertainment areas.

For more information on applying to Kelley, please consult the school’s Web site.

Undergraduate Program—www.kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/apply/
Evening MBA Program—www.kelley.iupui.edu/evemba/apply/
MSA Program—www.kelley.iupui.edu/msa/apply/
A top-quality team of internationally recognized Kelley faculty members provides the cornerstone for one of the nation’s leading part-time MBA programs. Evening programs in both Indianapolis and Carmel offer central Indiana business professionals convenient access to an MBA program of the highest caliber at reasonable cost. With a full slate of challenging and unique experiential learning opportunities and a comprehensive professional development program spanning all three years, Kelley’s Evening MBA program is a logical choice for those with high expectations and the motivation to learn and address.

Evening MBA PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS
- National ranking—In 2007, U.S. News & World Report ranked the Kelley Evening MBA program 26th in the nation among part-time programs.
- Career development opportunities—Kelley’s program is distinguished by integrated professional development services and a highly successful MBA enterprise program, offering students a chance to get real-world experience in strategic business problem solving and consulting.
- Two central Indiana locations—The hundred sixty students are accepted into the Evening MBA program each year—60 each semester in Indianapolis and 40 every fall in Carmel.
- Joint degree programs—A growing list of dual degree programs allows professionals in medicine, law, science, technology, health administration and engineering to earn MBA degrees at Kelley.

With Kelley training and education behind me, I believe I will have the best possible chance of landing the right job when I graduate. The competition is strong in today’s job market, so I want the best educational advantage—and that’s Kelley.
—Chris Potts, Management and International Studies major, England

For more information on applying to Kelley, please consult the school’s Web site.
- Undergraduate program—www.kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/apply/
- Evening MBA program—www.kelley.iupui.edu/evemba/apply/
- MSA program—www.kelley.iupui.edu/msa/apply/

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE
For undergraduate students, Kelley Indianapolis offers a variety of scholarships based on academic merit or financial need. A list of annual Kelley scholarships is available at kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/scholarships/. Undergraduate and graduate students may apply for all financial assistance open to IUPUI students. For more information about campus financial assistance, visit www.iupui.edu/~finaid/.

Comprehensive and flexible, Kelley’s Master of Science in Accounting program is well suited to both professionals wanting to advance or change the direction of their accounting careers, and those who have limited or no background in the field. Based on their interest and career aspirations, MSA students can choose from numerous business electives in auditing and assurance, information systems and taxation.

MSA PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS
- Conceptual exam preparation—In recent years, Kelley MSA graduates achieved the third highest score between the CPA exam and the FINRA highest score since Indiana’s annual certification CPA exam.
- Enhanced marketability—Courses completed to fulfill the CPA exam requirement may count toward the 30 hours needed for the MSA degree—preparing students for the exam and improving their marketability with an advanced degree.
- Commanding career potential—Graduates of Kelley’s MSA program are working for all of the national public accounting firms and most of the regional and local firms in Indianapolis.

www.kelley.iupui.edu/