Admission to Kelley—what you should know

Getting Started—Applying to IUPUI

Students interested in attending Kelley Indianapolis must first be admitted to IUPUI. Detailed information about IUPUI’s application process is available online at www.iupui.edu/enroll.

Kelley Admission Options

Admission to Kelley Indianapolis is competitive, and each applicant is considered individually. While grades and prerequisite coursework are the basis for initial review, other factors, including community service, activities and work experience, may be considered. Kelley applications for admission must be submitted:

- Between January 15 and March 1 for the fall semester; and
- Between August 15 and October 1 for the spring semester.

There are three ways students can be admitted to Kelley Indianapolis:

- Direct Admission—High-achieving high school students may be admitted as freshmen by meeting certain criteria.
- Option 1 Admission—IUPUI students who demonstrate high achievement during their first year on campus can be considered for early admission.
- Option 2 Admission—Students may follow this path by applying after 56 college credit hours have been completed.

For complete information on applying to Kelley Indianapolis, visit kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/apply.

Kelley Welcomes Transfer Students

Kelley Indianapolis is committed to making the transfer process easy for incoming students. With more than half of the school’s students transferring at least some credit hours as part of their admission process, Kelley Indianapolis is considered a “transfer-friendly” school. A specially designated Transfer and Returning Student Coordinator helps facilitate the process and is available to answer questions.

More information about transferring to Kelley Indianapolis can be accessed online at kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/transfer.

Financial Assistance

Kelley students may apply for all financial assistance open to IUPUI students. In addition, Kelley Indianapolis offers a variety of scholarships based on academic achievement and financial need. For more information about financial assistance and scholarships, visit www.iupui.edu/~finaid or kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/scholarships.

Discover IUPUI—A Leading Urban University

Kelley Indianapolis is one of the nation’s most distinctive business schools. We are dedicated to providing our students with exceptional educational experiences that will prepare them for rewarding careers.

For more information about Kelley Indianapolis, visit www.kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad.

Contact Us

Kelley School of Business
Kelley Hall, 4025 Central Ave.
Indianapolis, IN 46202
Ph: 317-274-2147
Fax: 317-274-2681
www.kelley.iupui.edu

Kelley School of Business
Kelley Hall, 4025 Central Ave.
Indianapolis, IN 46202
Ph: 317-274-2147
Fax: 317-274-2681
www.kelley.iupui.edu
Kelley faculty use their knowledge, skills and imagination to guide students a real taste of what they’ll be doing in the business world.

— Juan Benitez, Finance major, Dominican Republic

Kelley faculty use their knowledge, skills and imagination to guide students a real taste of what they’ll be doing in the business world.

— Chris Potts, Management and International Studies major, England

They engage in career exploration, internships and other opportunities to obtain hands-on practical experience. Project-based learning is a distinguishing feature of Kelley’s undergraduate curriculum.

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING

• Freshman Experience—Students learn management and organizational skills by undertaking a new venture project, some freshmen also participate in a trip to New York and Wall Street.
• Junior Experience—Helping students understand the multicultural nature of today’s business world is the focus of Kelley’s alumni (Entrepreneurial Core program). Students work in teams to solve a real business problem for a local company. The project requires students to analyze data from marketing, operations and finance, and international strategies needed to succeed in nearly any business environment.
• Senior Experience—to build on the experience students have in the junior and senior years to evaluate company decisions, Kelley seniors participate in a professional core class in which they study prior business decisions through case analysis and run a business using a simulation. Through the simulation, students not only compete with their classmates, but also with teams around the world.

HONORS PROGRAM

Taking further advantage of a Kelley education, the Kelley Honors Program offers a way for high-achieving students to capstone their academic experience through smaller classes, more opportunities for lively classroom discussion and increased interaction with business faculty.

STUDY ABROAD

Through GEF and other IU campuses, Kelley offers more than 40 programs in which students can receive IU/credit while studying abroad.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Many Kelley students choose to become involved in the various student organizations sponsored by the school. Participating in clubs and organizations, such as Kelley Student Government, International Business Club, Finance Association, Marketing Association, Society for Human Resource Management, Women in Business, Minorities in Business and the business fraternity Delta Sigma Pi, help students hone leadership skills for the future.

INTERNSHIPS/CAREER PLACEMENT

Through its active Career Placement Office (CPO), Kelley provides students and alumni with resources and guidance as they engage in career exploration, internships and other experiential learning opportunities, professional job search assistance, and ongoing career development. The CPO annually books more than 200 local and national companies for on-campus recruiting.

Explore the possibilities—Kelley’s undergraduate majors

Kelley undergraduates may choose one or more of the following majors:

Accounting

With tools for analysis, planning, control and decision making, students gain knowledge and skills for careers in auditing corporate accounting, management consulting, governmental and nonprofit organizations, and taxation.

Finance

By structuring and analyzing business decisions from a financial perspective, students are ready for careers in corporate financial management, commercial banking, investment analysis, financial planning and the sale of financial instruments and services.

Management

Offering flexibility to accommodate interests in corporate management training positions, application of behavioral science to management and personnel function, this major prepares students for careers in large and small companies, government, hospitals and universities.

Human Resource Management

Students expose to a broad spectrum of knowledge in personnel management fields, are prepared for careers in human resource management, including staffing and benefits administration.

Marketing

Through study of activities related to the marketing and distribution of goods and services, students are trained for roles in advertising, sales, market research, advertising, sales promotion, market research and distribution.

Supply Chain Management

Students gain experience in problems in which optimizing business processes is critical. With skills for competing in today’s global environment, they are prepared for jobs in operations management, acquisition and sourcing of goods, physical distribution and transportation.

Computer Information Systems (CIS)

CIS majors enjoy various opportunities in corporations and management consulting organizations.

International Studies

Students gain knowledge of the economic, political and social trends of foreign nations, providing opportunities for rewarding careers in multinational business settings. This major is available only in combination with one of the above majors.

MINOR IN BUSINESS

The Kelley minor is a flexible program designed to give non-business students a basic understanding of the major functional business areas. It can be earned while complying with requirements for a bachelor’s degree in another school or the IU-Global campus.
Undergrad Bro vs.FINAL:Layout 1  1/30/08  10:32 PM  Page 4

Kelley faculty use their knowledge, skills and imagination to give students a real taste of what they'll be doing in the business world.

A.

As one of the nation’s premier business schools, Kelley Undergraduate distinguishes itself in both its approach to learning and in some of the added benefits it offers students. Some of the special features of Kelley’s undergraduate program include:

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING

- Finance Experience—Students learn management and ethical decision-making through a multi-case project, which freshmen also participate in a trip to New York and Wall Street.
- Senior Experience—Helping students understand the multidisciplinary nature of today’s business world is the focus of Kelley’s outstanding Integrative Core program (I-Core). Students work in teams to solve a real business problem for a local university. The project requires students to use key areas such as marketing, operations and finance are intertwined—so skill needed to succeed in nearly any business environment.
- Junior Experience—In addition to the opportunities students have in the junior year to evaluate company sponsorship decisions, Kelley seniors participate in a professional core class in which they study prior business decisions through case analysis and use a business using a simulation. Through the simulation, students not only compete with their classmates, but also with teams around the world.

HORRIBLE PROGRAM

Taking full advantage of a Kelley education, the Kelley Honors Program offers a way for high-achieving students to combine academic experience through smaller classes, more opportunities for lively classroom discussion and increased interaction with business faculty.

STUDY ABROAD

Through IUPUI and other IU campuses, Kelley offers many more than 40 programs in which students can receive IU credit while studying abroad.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Many Kelley students choose to become involved in the student organizations sponsored by the school. Participating in clubs and organizations, such as Kelley Student Government, International Business Club, Finance Association, Business and Professional Ethics and the Kellogg School Resource Management, Women in Business, Ministe...
Kelley faculty use their knowledge, skills and imagination to give students a real taste of what they’ll be doing in the business world.

A stem of the nation’s premier business schools, Kelley undergraduates distinguish itself in both its approach to learning and in some of the added benefits it delivers to students. Some of the special features of Kelley’s undergraduate program include:

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING

- Freshman Experience - Students learn management and entrepreneurial skills in real-world business situations. Kelley’s freshman experience project, Freshman Experience, puts freshmen in a week-long business simulation.
- Junior Experience - Helping students understand the multidimensional nature of today’s business world is the focus of Kelley’s awarded National Inauguration Core program (Junior Experience). Students work in teams to solve a real business problem for a local business. The project requires students to learn new areas such as marketing, operations and finance in order to develop a successful strategy.
- Senior Experience - In addition to the operations students have learned in the junior and senior years, graduates complete a Kelley honors program. Kelley seniors participate in a professional core class in which they work as an executive team to provide solutions through simulation and a real business. Students explore business using a simulation.

HONORS PROGRAM

Taking full advantage of a Kelley education, the Kelley Honors Program offers a way for high-achieving students to gain valuable academic experience through smaller classes, more opportunities for lively classroom discussion and increased interaction with business faculty.

Highlights of a Kelley education

STUDY ABROAD

Through IUPUI and other IU campuses, Kelley offers more than 40 programs in which students can receive IU credit while studying abroad.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Many Kelley students choose to become involved in the student organizations sponsored by the school. Participating in clubs and organizations, such as Kelley Student Governments, International Business Club, Finance Club, Bridge Business Consulting and the Kelley Career Management Resource Management, Women in Business, Ministers in Business and the Business Fraternity Delta Sigma Pi, helps students form leadership skills for the future.

INTERNSHIP/APRENTICESHIP PLACEMENT

Through its career placement office, Kelley provides students and clients with resources and guidance as they engage in career exploration, internships and other experience, such as professional job searches, and ongoing career development. The Kelley Graduates hosts more than 250 local and national companies on-campus recruiting.

MARKETING

Kelley undergraduates may choose one of the following majors:
- Accounting
- Finance
- Human Resource Management
- International Business
- Supply Chain Management
- Computer Information Systems
- Marketing
- Human Resource Management
- International Business
- Supply Chain Management
- Computer Information Systems
- Marketing

With Kelley training and education behind me, I believe I will have the best possible chance of landing the right job when I graduate. The competition is strong in today’s job market, so I want the best educational advantage—and that’s Kelley.

Kelley undergraduates in business majors

Human Resource Management
- Human resource management, including staffing and personnel management, are prepared for careers in human resource management, including staffing and human resource management.

International Business
- This major is designed to prepare students for a career in international business. Students gain knowledge of the economic, political and social trends of foreign nations, providing capabilities for rewarding positions in international business.

Supply Chain Management
- This major is designed to prepare students for a career in supply chain management. Students gain knowledge of the logistics and distribution of goods, and are prepared for positions in supply chain management.

Computer Information Systems
- This major is designed to prepare students for a career in computer information systems. Students gain knowledge of computer systems and networks, and are prepared for positions in computer information systems.

Marketing
- This major is designed to prepare students for a career in marketing. Students gain knowledge of marketing, advertising, sales, market research, retailing, marketing research and distribution.

Finance
- This major is designed to prepare students for a career in finance. Students gain knowledge of the principles of financial management and the financial instruments and services.

International Business
- This major is designed to prepare students for a career in international business. Students gain knowledge of the economic, political and social trends of foreign nations, providing capabilities for rewarding positions in international business.

Human Resource Management
- This major is designed to prepare students for a career in human resource management. Students gain knowledge of human resource management, including staffing and human resource management.

Marketing
- This major is designed to prepare students for a career in marketing. Students gain knowledge of marketing, advertising, sales, market research, retailing, marketing research and distribution.

Supply Chain Management
- This major is designed to prepare students for a career in supply chain management. Students gain knowledge of the logistics and distribution of goods, and are prepared for positions in supply chain management.

Computer Information Systems
- This major is designed to prepare students for a career in computer information systems. Students gain knowledge of computer systems and networks, and are prepared for positions in computer information systems.

Marketing
- This major is designed to prepare students for a career in marketing. Students gain knowledge of marketing, advertising, sales, market research, retailing, marketing research and distribution.
GETTING STARTED—APPLYING TO IUPUI

Students interested in attending Kelley Indianapolis must first be admitted to IUPUI. Detailed information about IUPUI’s application process is available online at www.iupui.edu/enroll/.

KELLEY ADMISSION OPTIONS

Admission to Kelley Indianapolis is competitive, and each applicant is considered individually. While grades and prerequisite coursework are the basis for initial review, other factors, including community service, activities and work experiences, may be considered. Kelley applications for admission must be submitted:

- between January 15 and March 1 for the fall semester; and
- between August 15 and October 1 for the spring semester.

There are three ways students can be admitted to Kelley Indianapolis:

- Direct admission—High-achieving high school students may be admitted as freshmen by meeting certain criteria.
- Option 1 admission—IUPUI students who demonstrate high achievement during their first year on campus can be considered for early admission.
- Option 2 admission—Students may follow this path by applying after 56 college credit hours have been completed.

For complete information on applying to Kelley Indianapolis, visit kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/apply/.

KELLEY WELCOMES TRANSFER STUDENTS

Kelley Indianapolis is committed to making the transfer process easy for incoming students. With more than half of the school’s students transferring at least some credit hours as part of their admission process, Kelley Indianapolis is considered a “transfer-friendly” school. A specially designated Transfer and Returning Student Coordinator helps facilitate the process and is available to answer questions. More information about transferring to Kelley Indianapolis can be accessed online at kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/transfer/.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Kelley students may apply for all financial assistance open to IUPUI students. In addition, Kelley Indianapolis offers a variety of scholarships based on academic achievement or financial need. For more information about financial assistance and scholarships, visit www.iupui.edu/~finaid/ or kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/scholarships/.
Admission to Kelley—what you should know

The Career Placement Office does an incredible job of searching out companies that are looking specifically for Kelley Indianapolis grads for internships and jobs. It also provides students with great tools and resources to promote and sell yourself to employers.

—Joshua Fritcha, Management and International Studies major, Brownsburg, Indiana

With more than 26,000 students, IUPUI serves as a national model for today's urban university. The campus, situated just blocks from the seat of Indiana government, scores of downtown businesses and many of the city's cultural and entertainment venues, is home to 22 academic units granting degrees in more than 200 programs. Since 2003, U.S. News & World Report has annually recognized IUPUI as one of the best service-learning programs in the country. Learn more about IUPUI online:

Admissions
www.enroll.iupui.edu/

Student Life
www.life.iupui.edu/

Campus Housing
www.life.iupui.edu/housing/

The IUPUI Campus Center
www.life.iupui.edu/campcntr/

Kelley Undergraduate Program Office

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE
Kelley students may apply for all financial assistance open to IUPUI students. In addition, Kelley Indianapolis offers a variety of scholarships based on academic achievement and financial need. For more information about financial assistance and scholarships, visit www.iupui.edu/~finaid/kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/scholarships/.

GETTING STARTED—APPLYING TO IUPUI
Students interested in attending Kelley Indianapolis must first be admitted to IUPUI. Detailed information about IUPUI's application process is available online at www.iupui.edu/enroll/.

KELLEY ADMISSION OPTIONS
Admission to Kelley Indianapolis is competitive, and each applicant is considered individually. While grades and prerequisite coursework are the basis for initial review, other factors, including community service, activities and work experience, may be considered. Kelley applications for admission must be submitted:

between January 15 and March 1 for the fall semester; and between August 15 and October 1 for the spring semester.

There are three ways students can be admitted to Kelley Indianapolis:

1. Direct admission—High-achieving high school students may be admitted as freshmen by meeting certain criteria.
2. Option 1 admission—IUPUI students who demonstrate high achievement during their first year on campus can be considered for early admission.
3. Option 2 admission—Students may follow this path by applying after 56 college credit hours have been completed.

For complete information on applying to Kelley Indianapolis, visit kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/apply/.

KELLEY WELCOMES TRANSFER STUDENTS
Kelley Indianapolis is committed to making the transfer process easy for incoming students. With more than half of the school's students transferring at least some credit hours as part of their admission process, Kelley Indianapolis is considered a "transfer-friendly" school. A specially designated Transfer and Returning Student Coordinator helps facilitate the process and is available to answer questions. More information about transferring to Kelley Indianapolis can be accessed online at kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/transfer/.

Kelley students may apply for all financial assistance open to IUPUI students. In addition, Kelley Indianapolis offers a variety of scholarships based on academic achievement and financial need. For more information about financial assistance and scholarships, visit www.iupui.edu/~finaid/kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/scholarships/.

Contact us
Kelley & IUPUI Undergraduate Programs Office
awards students with a variety of costs, such as academic, pre-professional, internship, honors programs, majors, minors, international student documentation, diversity programs, international study, tutoring and graduation requirements. Online advising, including a live chat feature, is also available through the Kelley Student Services Office.

Hours
Monday – Thursday: 7:30am – 6:00pm
Friday: 7:30am – 5:00pm
317.274.2147
www.kelley.iupui.edu/undergrad/