School of Social Work

Indiana University has a long history of providing preparation for entry into social work practice. Courses in this area began to be offered in 1911 through the Department of Economics and Sociology. Between 1911 and 1944, various administrative and curricular changes were put into effect, and degree programs at both the undergraduate and graduate levels were offered. In 1944, the Indiana University Division of Social Service was established by action of the Trustees of Indiana University. The organizational status was changed in 1966 when the Graduate School of Social Service was created. In 1973, the name was changed to School of Social Service in recognition of the extent and professional nature of the school’s graduate and undergraduate offerings. It became the School of Social Work in 1977 in order to reflect more clearly its identification with the profession.

The school provides opportunities for study leading to the associate, baccalaureate, master’s, and doctoral degrees. The Associate of Science (A.S.) program prepares students for paraprofessional practice; the Bachelor of Social Work (B.S.W.) program prepares students for generalist social work practice; the Master of Social Work (M.S.W.) program prepares graduate students for advanced social work practice in an area of specialization; and the doctoral program prepares social workers for leadership roles in research, education, and policy development.

Although the degree programs vary in their emphases and levels of complexity, the school’s curricula embody features that are systemic in their educational effects:

- The total curriculum articulates the relationship of the undergraduate and graduate levels as components of a continuum in education for social service.
- The mechanisms of instruction provide opportunities for a range of experiences in substantive areas of interest to students and of importance to society.
- The curriculum focuses on problem-solving and strength-enhancing experiences that involve the classroom, the learning resources laboratory, and field experience.
- Excellent library and technology resources make social work students effective users of social science information.
- An exploration of educational procedures and arrangements optimize effective training, including institutional self-study of the entire curriculum as well as the exploration of specific educational tools.

Mission Statement

Adopted by action of the faculty on February 8, 1995.

The mission of the Indiana University School of Social Work is to educate students to be effective and knowledgeable professional social workers prepared for practice in the twenty-first century. Such practitioners are committed to the alleviation of poverty, oppression, and discrimination. The school is dedicated to the enhancement of the quality of life for all people, particularly the citizens of Indiana, and to the advancement of just social, political, and economic conditions through excellence in teaching, scholarship, and service. Within the context of a diverse, multicultural, urbanized, global, and technologically oriented society, the school prepares social workers who will shape solutions to a wide range of interpersonal and social problems by developing and using knowledge critically as they uphold the traditions, values, and ethics of the social work profession.

Teaching
The teaching mission is to educate students to become professional social workers equipped for a lifetime of learning, scholarship, and service. Graduates embrace person-in-environment and strengths perspectives that are linked to the welfare of individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. They learn to keep abreast of advances in knowledge and technology, be self-reflective, and apply best practice and accountable models of intervention. The school prepares social work practitioners and scholars ready to assume leadership roles at the B.S.W., M.S.W., and Ph.D. levels.

Scholarship
The scholarship mission includes the discovery, integration, application, dissemination, and evaluation of client-centered and solution-focused knowledge for and with social work professionals and other consumers. Innovative forms of scholarship are encouraged in developing knowledge for use in practice, education, and service concerning social needs and social problems.

Service
The service mission is dedicated to the promotion of the general welfare of all segments of society. Service includes work in the school, university, profession, and community and reflects the school’s expertise in teaching, scholarship, and social work practice. Service in the interest of persons at greatest risk is consistent with the social work profession’s attention to social justice.

Policy on Nondiscrimination
Based on the tradition of the social work profession and consistent with Indiana University’s Equal Opportunity Policy, the Indiana University School of Social Work affirms and conducts all aspects of its teaching, scholarship, and service activities without discrimination on the basis of race, color, gender, socioeconomic status, marital status, national or ethnic origin, age, religion or creed, disability, and political or sexual orientation.

The School of Social Work has a strong commitment to diversity and nondiscrimination. Indeed, diversity is celebrated as a strength. This perspective is demonstrated by the composition of its faculty and student body, curriculum content, and recruitment and retention activities; by participation in university committees dealing with oppressed populations; by numerous service activities, including advocacy on behalf of the disadvantaged; by its selection of field practicum sites; and by school policies related to promotion and tenure of its faculty.

Undergraduate Degrees

Associate of Science in Human Services
This program is offered by the Indiana University School of Social Work through IU East. The degree prepares students for paraprofessional employment; i.e., its purpose is to enable students to develop skills at the technician level to assist other professionals in community settings. Within the associate degree, concentrations include child care, institutional life, neighborhood work, public housing, rehabilitation, and homemaker services. For an application form and information about admission to this program, write to Edward FitzGerald, M.S.W., J.D.
Indiana University East
2325 Chester Boulevard
Richmond, IN 47374-1289
Telephone: (765) 973-8422
E-mail: efitzer@indiana.edu

It will be possible for students who complete requirements for the Associate of Science degree to be admitted to the Bachelor of Social Work program. Course credit earned for the associate degree may be applied to the B.S.W. degree.

Admission Requirements
The following are the minimum requirements for admission to the program:

- Regular admission to the university
- Completion of at least 12 credit hours beyond high school, including the required exploratory course, S141 Introduction to Social Work (Student must receive a grade of C or above)
- A minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.5 on a 4.0 scale, although in special cases students may be admitted with a grade point average below 2.5
- Evidence of personal qualifications required for education in human services to be derived from application materials, letters of reference, performance in completed courses, and a personal interview

Bachelor of Social Work
This four-year degree program prepares students for generalist social work practice. It helps students develop the competence to apply knowledge, values, and skills to practice with individuals, small groups, organizations, and communities. The program also prepares students for graduate education. The B.S.W. equips the practitioner to work with people who are encountering challenges related to personal or social circumstances. In addition, qualified graduates may apply for advanced standing to master’s degree programs nationwide.

Following the equivalent of a minimum of two postgraduate years of supervised social work practice experience, B.S.W. graduates of IU are eligible for licensure by the state of Indiana. Upon successful completion of licensing requirements, the Indiana State Health Professions Bureau designates the B.S.W. graduate a Licensed Social Worker (L.S.W.).

The required social work courses at the freshman, sophomore, and junior levels are offered on the Indianapolis (IUPUI), Bloomington (IUB), and Richmond (IUE) campuses. The senior-level courses are offered only at IUPUI and IUE. Bloomington students should expect to spend their senior year on the IUPUI campus in full-time residence. Students in the B.S.W. Program must complete all sophomore and junior social work courses and achieve senior standing before enrolling in the senior social work courses. A few social work courses are offered at Columbus and on the Kokomo campus.

Educational Requirements
The baccalaureate social work degree is granted by the university. For continuance in and graduation from the program, students are required (1) to maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 in all letter-graded courses, (2) to maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0 (or its equivalent) in all required social work courses, (3) to attain a minimum grade of C (2.0) or Satisfactory in each required social work course, and (4) to carry out professional activity in conformity with the values and ethics of the profession.

In the event of failure to meet such requirements, students will be ineligible to continue in the program. Such students are encouraged to consult with their faculty advisor regarding realistic planning for the future, including the right to petition for administrative review. Detailed descriptions of student continuation policies are in the B.S.W. Student Handbook or on the Web at iussw.iupui.edu.

Repeated Courses
A course in which a lower than acceptable grade is attained must be repeated or a comparable course substituted that has been approved by the School of Social Work faculty. Required social work courses may be repeated only after the student is reinstated in the program with permission from the school.

Pass/Fail Grades
A maximum of four pass/fail courses may be applied to the B.S.W. degree. All general requirements and supportive area requirements need a letter grade. All required social work courses receive a letter grade except 5862 Practicum II, which is graded as Satisfactory/Fail.

Courses by Correspondence
A maximum of six courses taken by correspondence may be applied toward completion of the B.S.W. degree requirements. Of these, no more than four courses can be allowed in the general requirements and no more than two courses in the supportive area requirements.

Liability Insurance
Students are required to carry professional liability insurance. Under the school’s blanket policy, the cost of insurance is included in the student’s practicum course fee.

Credit for Life Experience
Academic credit for life experience and previous work experience is not given in whole or in part toward the social work degree.

Graduate Programs

Master of Social Work

In recognition of the time and geographic constraints of many students who seek professional social work education, the Indiana University School of Social Work offers 6 programs of study leading to the 60 credit hour M.S.W. degree. The Indianapolis campus offers a two-year full-time program, a three-year part-time weekday program, a three-year part-time evening program, a three-year part-time Saturday program, and an Advanced Standing Program. (The Advanced Standing Program is designed for students with strong academic records who have earned a Bachelor of Social Work (B.S.W.) degree within five years of their admission date, from programs accredited by the Council of Social Work Education.) IU South Bend offers a three-year part-time evening program. IU Northwest offers a four-year part-time program.

The general intent of these programs is preparation for advanced social work practice. In addition to generic knowledge and skills, the programs provide an opportunity for development of special competence in interpersonal practice or MACRO Practice. (MACRO is an acronym for Management/Administration, Advocacy, Community, Research/Evaluation and Organization.) Educational resources for students in the program include a substantial library, an audiovisual center, student computer modules, and diversified field instruction settings throughout the state.

Admission Requirements

Professional social work education requires students at the master’s level to undertake a rigorous program of classroom and practice work. The IU School of Social Work seeks to admit individuals who have demonstrated competency through previous academic work, professional achievements, and volunteer commitments. A strong commitment to social justice and service to others should be evident in the application.

Enrollment in the M.S.W. program requires official admission to the IU School of Social Work. The following items are the minimum requirements for consideration for admission:

• An earned bachelor’s degree from an accredited college or university
• Evidence of course work in liberal arts
• Successful completion of a minimum of six courses in social or behavioral sciences, as defined in the application packet
• Successful completion of a course in statistics
• Successful completion of a course in research methods
• Successful completion of a course in human biology
• An earned cumulative undergraduate grade point average (GPA) of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale
• Submission of the completed application packet. Preference is given to applications returned by the priority date

Applications are available in late August of the year preceding admission. Information pertaining to the deadline and requirements can be found in the application packet.

Applications can apply to only one specific program. All applicants are encouraged to submit applications as soon as possible and well before the priority date. The M.S.W. admissions committee makes all decisions and notifies students in early spring. Applications are evaluated on the basis of the eight criteria outlined above. Admission is competitive and the instructional resources of the school determine total enrollment.

International Students

Applicants who are not citizens of the United States should apply as early as possible preceding the fall in which they wish to enter. They must fill out the international application and the IU School of Social Work application by the posted deadlines. They also must provide proof of their ability to pay fees and support themselves adequately during the period of their study and, through examinations designated by the school, must demonstrate an ability to comprehend, write, and speak English in course and faculty. Persons interested in such enrollment are required to request written permission from the M.S.W. program director.

M.S.W. Programs of Study
IU School of Social Work provides several programs of study leading to the M.S.W. degree. Each program requires 60 credit hours of graduate-level course work.

Indiana University–Purdue University Indianapolis

Two-Year Full-Time Program
The Two-Year Full-Time Program consists of two years of course work taken over four academic semesters. Elective courses may be taken during the summer.

Part-Time Day Program
The Part-Time Day Program enables students to complete the foundation curriculum (the first 30 credit hours of the program) over two calendar years. Students attend classes during the academic year, starting in August.

Part-Time Saturday Program
The Part-Time Saturday Program enables students to complete the foundation curriculum (the first 30 credit hours of the program) over two calendar years. Classroom courses are offered on Saturdays. Students begin this program in late June by enrolling in their first course during the summer I session. Following completion of the foundation curriculum, part-time Saturday students are required to complete the concentration curriculum (the final 30 credit hours of the program) with most classes and internships held during the week (usually Monday through Thursday).

Part-Time Evening Program
The Part-Time Evening Program enables students to complete the foundation curriculum (the first 30 credit hours of the program) over two calendar years. Classroom courses are offered on weekday evenings. Students begin this program in late June by enrolling in their first course during the summer II session. Part-time evening students are required to complete the concentration curriculum (the final 30 credit hours of the program) with most classes and internships held during the week (usually Monday through Thursday).

Advanced Standing Program
Students holding a bachelor of social work degree may be eligible for this program, which begins in May of each year. Applicants to the Advanced Standing Program must provide the Admissions Committee with an official transcript. Senior B.S.W. students must provide a transcript including the fall semester (or winter quarter) grades of their senior year. The following are specific requirements for consideration for admission to the Advanced Standing Program:
- Graduation within five years from a baccalaureate social work program accredited (or admitted to candidacy for accreditation) by the Council on Social Work Education
- Statistics course
- A cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale
- A cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 in all social work courses taken prior to Admissions Committee action
- Evidence of characteristics and/or potentials required for competent social work practice as defined in the mission statement of the school to be derived from application materials, letters of reference, and pertinent work or volunteer experience
- A reference letter from the B.S.W. program director of the applicant’s undergraduate program

Students admitted with advanced standing will receive credit by credentials for all first-semester courses (14 credits). Candidates who have successfully completed a practice evaluation course beyond a research methodology course may receive an additional 3 credits by credential for this course. During the summer preceding the concentration year, students will satisfy the remaining second-semester course requirements of the foundation year. They can complete the concentration curriculum in one year.

Any eligible B.S.W. graduate applying for a program option other than the Advanced Standing Program may petition to test out of all first-semester course work.

Indiana University Northwest

Part-Time
The Part-Time Program at IUN enables students to complete the full program over three calendar years. Classroom courses are offered on weekday evenings. Students begin this program by enrolling in their first course during the summer II session.

Master of Social Work Curriculum
Social work is a dynamic profession concerned with changing needs of people and society. To respond to such needs, the curriculum of the School of Social Work undergoes continuing review by the faculty with the participation of students, members of the practice community, and others. Students must complete at least 60 credit hours of graduate-level course work to meet the minimum requirements for the Master of Social Work degree. All students complete a common 30 credit foundation curriculum that emphasizes a generalist perspective for social work practice. The foundation curriculum includes a one-semester practicum of a minimum of 320 clock hours. Following that, students complete a concentration curriculum that prepares them for (1) advanced interpersonal social work practice or (2) advanced MACRO social work practice. The concentration practicum of a minimum of 640 clock hours is usually completed over two semesters. All foundation curriculum course work must be completed before students are eligible to enroll in any required courses in the concentration curriculum.

The overall objectives of the foundation year of the M.S.W. program include development of:
- Basic generalist competence applicable to a broad range of social work practice
- Basic competence in both interpersonal practice and MACRO practice
- Basic competence for practice in social service delivery systems

The overall objectives of the concentration year include development of special competence in interpersonal practice or MACRO practice.

Typical course arrangements for students admitted to the Two-Year Full-Time Program are listed below.

Foundation Curriculum

First Semester (14 cr.)
S500 Social Welfare and the Social Work Profession (3 cr.)
S510 Human Behavior and the Social Environment: Individuals, Family, Groups (3 cr.)
S511 Human Behavior and the Social Environment: Organizations, Communities, Societies (3 cr.)
S540 Social Work Practice I: Theory and Skills (5 cr.)

Second Semester (16 cr.)
S520 Evaluation Processes in Social Work (3 cr.)
Admission to Candidacy
Following the passing of the qualification examination and the completion of all course work, the student’s advisory committee will submit a Nomination to Candidacy Form to the University Graduate School. Upon approval of the dean, the student will be admitted to candidacy and awarded a Certificate of Candidacy.

Research Proposal
After nomination to candidacy, the student, with the approval of the program director, will select a research committee of no fewer than three faculty members, including one member outside of the School of Social Work. This committee must approve the proposed dissertation topic.

Final Examination
The final examination is the oral defense of the dissertation.

Pre-Doc Exploratory Option
The Pre-Doc Exploratory Option allows prospective doctoral students to test their interest and commitment to doctoral education. The program provides students with the time to gain the information and experience needed to make an informed decision about formal application to the program. This option permits qualified students to enroll in up to 3 of the school’s regular Ph.D. foundation courses and to complete up to 9 credit hours of doctoral course work before deciding to apply formally to the program. If a student later applies and is accepted to the regular Ph.D. program, credits earned during the pre-doc phase will automatically apply toward the Ph.D. degree.

Participation in the Pre-Doc Exploratory Option does not guarantee acceptance into the Ph.D. program. It does, however, provide a unique opportunity for students to explore that possibility. Courses counted toward the Ph.D. degree must be completed within seven years of passing the required qualification examination. The selection of candidates for enrollment in the Pre-Doc Exploratory Option is based on the following criteria:

- An earned master’s degree in social work or a related field
- A graduate grade point average of at least 3.5 on a 4.0 scale
- Official copies of all baccalaureate- and master’s-level transcripts

Course Requirements
The student must complete a total of 90 credit hours, including dissertation and research internship. Candidates for the Ph.D. degree may be granted up to 30 hours of graduate credit from other institutions as follows:

- Of these 15 research-related credit hours, at least 6 credits must have been completed within three calendar years prior to the date the student enrolled in his/her first doctoral class following acceptance into the Ph.D. program.
- All 15 research transfer credits must have been successfully completed as prerequisites for the two advanced research methods courses (S726 and S727), the Research Internship (S725), and the advanced statistics course.
- Any or all of the 15 research transfer credits may be taken prior to acceptance into the Ph.D. program and in addition to the 9 credit hours associated with the pre-doc program.
- All students must have successfully completed a graduate-level statistics course within three calendar years prior to enrolling in the required advanced statistics course. Students who have completed a statistics course more than three years prior to enrolling in the advanced statistics course may petition the director of the Ph.D. program to test out of this requirement.
- Any research transfer credits not completed prior to acceptance into the Ph.D. program must be completed as part of the student’s doctoral studies in accordance with the above provisions.

All courses credited toward the Ph.D. degree must have a minimum grade of B and must receive written approval from the School of Social Work Ph.D. Program Committee and the dean of the University Graduate School.

Specific program requirements include:

- Professional social work component (33 cr.)
- Specialization component (18 cr.)
- Research component (21 cr.)
- Research internship (6 cr.)
- Dissertation (12 cr.)

All students in the Ph.D. program, with the approval of the program director, will select two faculty members to serve as their academic advisors throughout their doctoral studies, one of whom will represent the student’s area of specialization outside the School of Social Work.

Qualifying Examination Process
The qualifying examination process is comprehensive and integrative in nature. Specific guidelines for the completion of the qualifying process are available from the Ph.D. program director.
• A 500-word written statement that outlines the applicant’s reasons for seeking enrollment in the Pre-Doc Exploratory Option program
• One letter of reference
• A professional resume

There is an open admissions process for the Pre-Doc and Ph.D. programs. Ph.D. applicants who would like to be considered for possible nomination for a University Fellowship should apply by January 1.

Students enrolled in the Pre-Doc Exploratory Option program are strongly encouraged to complete the S721 Seminar in Advanced Scholarship Skills (3 credit hours) as part of their program of studies. The following is a list of other S700-level courses:
S710 Proseminar on Client Systems (3 cr.)
S720 Philosophy of Science and Social Work (3 cr.)
S726 Advanced Social Work Research Methods, Qualitative Research (3 cr.)
S727 Advanced Social Work Research Methods, Quantitative Research (3 cr.)
S728 Research Seminar (3 cr.)
S730 Proseminar on Social Work Policy Analysis (3 cr.)
S740 Social Work Practice: Theory and Methods, Quantitative Research (3 cr.)

Professional and Academic Integrity

Students’ Rights and Responsibilities

Social work students in the B.S.W., M.S.W., and Ph.D. programs have a right to participate in decision-making activities about the school. Students regularly contribute to the continued development and growth of our programs. Indeed, the school values students’ input in several critical areas: faculty and course evaluation, school committee work, faculty hiring, and student field placements.

All students enrolled at the School of Social Work have an opportunity each semester to evaluate their courses and instructors. At the end of each course, students are given standardized faculty evaluation forms to complete. These evaluations are confidential, and the results are computer generated. The evaluations are returned to the faculty to use for strengthening content, teaching, and learning methods to improve instruction.

Through their elected and/or volunteer representatives, social work students provide input to and learn from B.S.W., M.S.W., Ph.D. program committees and various others that might be convened throughout the year. Student representatives are viewed as valuable members of these committees.

Students have the opportunity to meet both informally and formally with any candidates being considered for faculty positions.

Each student has the opportunity to have input into the selection of his or her field practicum assignments. The field practicum coordinator in each program works closely with students to negotiate suitable placements.

Social work students have the right to provide feedback about school policies and procedures as well as the behavior of faculty and staff members. In providing either positive or critical feedback, students are expected to follow professional social work values, and ethics. For example, students who believe that a faculty or staff member’s behavior is discourteous or ineffective should discuss the concern directly with the person in question. Students who have reason to believe addressing the person directly would place them in some jeopardy should register the concern with the director or campus coordinator of the program, who will address and respond to the issue.

Students who believe that they have been treated unfairly or unprofessionally by a faculty or staff member, or that a policy or procedure is unjust or unwise, may submit in writing a formal grievance petition to the dean of the school. Grievance petitions are reserved for those issues or incidents that warrant formal investigation and full exploration. Such petitions should be submitted in a professional manner, consistent with social work norms, values, and ethics.

Student complaints regarding discrimination, sexual harassment, racial harassment, and harassment on the basis of sexual orientation have established complaint procedures available in the Indiana University Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct.

Academic and Scholarly Guidelines

Students admitted to any Indiana University School of Social Work program have already demonstrated potential for superior academic work. Most social work students are therefore very familiar and comfortable with high academic and scholarly standards. Obviously, students are expected to attend classroom and practicum course meetings. Regular attendance is viewed as the personal and professional responsibility of each social work student. Active participation in course activities is the expected norm. In participating, it is expected that students reflect interest in, and respect for, their colleagues in a manner that is congruent with the values, ethics, and skills of the profession.

In written assignments, students are expected to prepare documents in a scholarly and professional manner. Submissions should be typewritten in double-spaced format and carefully edited for spelling and grammar. All direct quotations, paraphrases, empirical research findings, and other restatements of the research, scholarship, or creative work of others must be appropriately annotated using the standard bibliographic citation methods set out in the most recent edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association. The APA manual serves as the guide for style and format of all papers submitted in the School of Social Work.

Competent and effective social work practice requires well-developed and refined communication skills, including the use of the written word. Writing well helps social workers communicate information accurately and concisely to others involved in helping client systems. For this reason, formal writing assignments in social work courses will be evaluated on both the basis of the quality of the scholarly content as well as the quality of its presentation.

Electronic Communication

Students are expected to follow appropriate e-mail etiquette when communicating with faculty, staff, and peers. Correct grammar is expected at all times. Inappropriate use of e-mail will be grounds for student review. For specific guidelines, please visit www.itpo.iu.edu/policies.html and www.itpo.iu.edu/computerruse.html.

Student Misconduct

A. Academic Misconduct

Indiana University School of Social Work and/or the university may discipline a student for academic misconduct defined as any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the institution and undermine the educational process. Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Cheating
   a. A student must not use external assistance on any “in-class” or “take-home” examination, unless the instructor specifically has authorized such assistance. This prohibition includes, but is not limited to, the use of tutors, books, notes, and calculators.
   b. A student must not use another person as a substitute in the taking of an examination or quiz.
   c. A student must not steal examinations or other course materials.
   d. A student must not allow others to conduct research or to prepare any work for him or her without advance authorization from the instructor to whom the work is being submitted. Under this prohibition, a student must not make any unauthorized use of materials obtained from commercial term paper companies or from files of papers prepared by other persons.
   e. A student must not collaborate with other persons on a particular project and submit a copy of a written report that is represented explicitly or implicitly as the student’s own individual work.
   f. A student must not use any unauthorized assistance in a laboratory, at a computer terminal, or on fieldwork.
   g. A student must not submit substantial portions of the same academic work for credit or honors more than once without permission of the instructor to whom the work is being submitted.
   h. A student must not alter a grade or score in any way.

Policy Regarding Individuals Convicted of Sex Offenses against Children

Policy Statement
It is the policy of the School of Social Work that no students or applicants who have been convicted of sex offenses against children shall be eligible for matriculation into the B.S.W., M.S.W., or Ph.D. programs.

Procedure
1. Responsible Office. The Office of Student Services, in conjunction with the Admissions Committee of each program, shall administer the Sex Offenders Screening Policy as it relates to student admissions and transfers.
2. Periodic Review. Periodically the Student Services Committee will review the policy and will make recommendations to the dean of the school regarding any possible changes to the policy and procedures for implementation.
3. Preadmission and Transfer Screening. Applicants will be asked to self-report any history of convictions of sexual offenses against children. As well, once students are accepted into the program, their names will be forwarded to the Office of the Registrar for screening against the registry. Any applicant or new admits whose name is on the registry will be ineligible for admission or transfer and shall be notified of nonacceptance or termination from the respective program.
4. Students in Affected Programs. Any student who is already in an IU School of Social Work Program and whose name appears on the registry during the time of matriculation, or who has been convicted of an offense for which the student can be listed on the registry, shall be ineligible for continuation or completion of the affected program. Any faculty member, student, field instructor, or other person within the school who becomes aware of such a situation should bring it to the attention of the respective program director for appropriate action.
5. Notice. The school bulletin shall include a statement giving notice to potential applicants that criminal convictions may render persons ineligible for certain practica.

An off-campus rental information file is available in the campus housing office.
Interested persons must check the card file for rental listings in person.
The cost of living in Indianapolis is comparable to that of other Midwestern cities of similar size. It is impossible to give an accurate figure, but in addition to student fees, room and board begin at approximately $600 per month, bus fare, laundry, and incidentals may average $150 monthly, and books and supplies cost approximately $250 per semester. Expenditures for personal items depend upon the individual student.

Student Organizations
Students of the school maintain B.S.W. and M.S.W. Social Work Student Associations, which sponsor program meetings and social affairs during the year. Through elected officers and committees, the associations serve as important channels for communication between students and faculty. In addition, these organizations appoint student representatives to various school committees. Students also are encouraged to participate in organizations related to the social work profession. Information about these organizations can be found in the B.S.W. and M.S.W. Student Handbooks.

Student Employee Health Service
All students are eligible to be seen on a fee basis for health services available through the Indiana University Student Employee Health Service of the IU Medical Center in Indianapolis. For information call (317) 274-8214. In addition to these services, students may apply for blanket medical expense coverage that also will insure dependents of students. For information or to apply, call (317) 278-1159. The Web site for insurance information is www.student-resources.net.

Students with Disabilities
By anticipating some common problem areas, the university makes every effort to help students with physical or learning disabilities make the transition to university life. A detailed list of services is available through the Office of Adaptive Educational Services, 425 University Boulevard; telephone: (317) 274-3241 or TDD/TTY, (317) 278-2050; Web: www.life.iupui.edu. For student services information on the Bloomington, Gary, Richmond, and South Bend campuses, please see the respective Indiana University campus bulletin.

School Alumni
Graduates of the school maintain an active Alumni Association whereby they continue to participate in the improvement of the programs and the achievement of the school’s progressive goals. Leadership is provided by officers and an executive committee elected biennially.

Courses of Instruction
In the following course listings, the abbreviation “P” refers to prerequisite and “C” indicates corequisite courses. This bulletin lists only the social work prerequisite and corequisite courses. A list of the specific prerequisite and corequisite courses from the general Student Associations, which sponsor program meetings and social affairs during the year. Through elected officers and committees, the associations serve as important channels for communication between students and faculty. In addition, these organizations appoint student representatives to various school committees. Students also are encouraged to participate in organizations related to the social work profession. Information about these organizations can be found in the B.S.W. and M.S.W. Student Handbooks.

S530 Social Policy and Services (3 cr.) Examines the political and legislative processes as these influence the development of social policy and services. Included are legislative processes, models of policy analysis, service delivery, and policy implementation. The effects of these on people are considered from global, political, economic, and social policy perspectives.

S540 Social Work Practice I: Theory and Skills (5 cr.) Introduces students to knowledge, values, and skills for generalist social work practice. The course prepares students to enhance the well-being of people and to ameliorate environmental conditions that affect them adversely. Includes laboratory experiences to provide opportunities for students to develop basic social work skills through experiential and simulation activities. Focus is on the core interactional skills of social work practice differentially applied at all system levels and with diverse populations.

S541 Social Work Practice II: Individuals, Families, Groups (3 cr.) Focuses on generalist social work practice with individuals, families, and groups.

S542 Social Work Practice II: Organizations, Communities, Societies (3 cr.) This course is concerned with helping communities and other social units to empower themselves and eradicate oppressive situations and practices through networking, political participation, leadership development, mobilization, utilization of resources, and other strategies and techniques.

S550 Social Work Practicum I (4 cr.) This course is an educationally directed field experience (16-20 hours per week) in social work practice settings with approved field instructors; 320 clock hours.

S600 Electives (3 cr.) Vary in subject matter. Scheduling of these courses will be announced prior to semester registration.

S621 Social Work Research: Interpersonal (3 cr.) Course provides content from various research methodologies, including qualitative and quantitative designs, to support advanced interpersonal social work practice.

S622 Social Work Research: Macro Practice (3 cr.) This course helps the student acquire knowledge and competence in quantitative and qualitative evaluation, research, and needs/resource assessment in relation to macro practice.

S631 Social Policy and Services II (3 cr.) A group of courses covering topics or content including social problems, special populations, individual, family, and group systems, and social indicators that predict areas of future social policy transformations.

S634 Social Work Practice III: Individuals (3 cr.) Focuses on theory and skills needed for advanced social work practice with and on behalf of individuals.

S644 Social Work Practice III: Families (3 cr.) Focuses on theory and skills needed for advanced social work practice with and on behalf of families.

S645 Social Work Practice III: Groups (3 cr.) Focuses on theory and skills needed for advanced social work practice with and on behalf of natural and formal groups.

S646 Community Organization and Social Action (3 cr.) Focuses on theory and skills needed by social workers for advanced community organization and social action.

S647 Program Planning and Development (3 cr.) This is a skills course in which the student learns how to develop a program plan, its components, and the strategy for its implementation.

S648 Enhancing Task-Oriented Skills in Macro Practice (3 cr.) This is a skills course in which the student learns and uses a framework for social advocacy and social justice as applied to “community” and “organization and social development.”

S651 Social Work Practicum II: Interpersonal (4 cr.) Agency-based field experience (16 hours per week) for interpersonal practice concentration students; 256 clock hours.

S652 Social Work Practicum III: Interpersonal (5 cr.) Agency-based field experience (16-24 hours per week) for interpersonal practice concentration students; 386 clock hours.

S653 Social Work Practicum II: MacroPractice (4 cr.) Agency-based field experience (16 hours per week) for macro practice concentration students; 256 clock hours.

S654 Social Work Practicum III: Macro Practice (5 cr.) Agency-based field experience (16-24 hours per week) for macro practice concentration students; 386 clock hours, usually over 2 semesters.

S660 Special Social Work Practicum (1-9 cr.) An educationally directed field experience in addition to the required practicum courses.

S690 Independent Study (1-6 cr.) P: approval from an academic advisor and the director of the M.S.W. program. An opportunity to engage in a self-directed study of an area related to the school’s curriculum in which no formal course is available.

Ph.D. Courses

In addition to the required courses listed below, all students must complete a minimum of 12 credit hours of coursework outside the School of Social Work related to their area of specialization. An advanced course in measurement and statistics is also required and is typically taken as part of the student’s area of specialization. All students enroll for 6 elective credits, which may be taken within or outside the School of Social Work with the approval of the student's advisory committee.

S700 Integrative Seminar (3 cr.) P: completion of specialization requirements or consent of S710 Proseminar on Client Systems (3 cr.) This seminar focuses on the converging forces that have shaped the development, dissemination, and utilization of the human behavior knowledge base of social work. It specifically examines the social and behavioral science theory and research that provide the foundation for social work practice across a variety of system levels.

S720 Philosophy of Science and Social Work (3 cr.) This course examines the nature and sources of social work knowledge and considers a range of epistemological issues involved in the selection, development, evaluation, and use of knowledge for social work.

S721 Preparing to Publish: Seminar in Advanced Scholarship Skills (3 cr.) This course prepares doctoral students for academic scholarship. Topics include expectations and standards for scholarly discourse, critical and analytic thinking skills, logical argument, scholarly writing for publication, and the development of an agenda. Web-based peer and instructor review of successive drafts of writing assignments culminate in a synthesized review of literature.

S725 Social Work Research Internship (6 cr.) P: S720, S721, foundation statistics course, and at least one of the following: S710, S730, or S740. This supervised field internship provides a unique opportunity for students to examine within the context of a social work perspective the relevant research and practice issues that have emerged as a consequence of having participated in an educational program that includes content taken both within and outside the School of Social Work.

S727 Advanced Social Work Research Methods, Quantitative Research (3 cr.) This course on quantitative research explores the similarities and differences in research methods and provides an opportunity to formulate and test a research question. Students will focus in turn on developing a research question based on interest and a thorough review of the literature. They will learn how to choose an appropriate design for answering testable questions, and in the various roles of theory, fundamentals of sampling, the role of informants, and steps of preparatory work will be explored. Students will generate, test, and refine interview questions or instruments appropriate to their chosen design. They will identify potential funding opportunities and current research through online data searches. Computer demonstrations and experiential computer exercises will expose students to research software and available databases. At the conclusion of the semester, students will have developed a research proposal and field-tested their data collection instruments.

S731 Proseminar on Social Work Policy Analysis (3 cr.) This seminar focuses on the development and application of analytical tools necessary to critically examine and evaluate social policy theory and research relevant to social work, including the values and ideologies that undergird social problem construction, social policy creation, and social program design. Special attention is devoted to the application of this schema for diverse populations.

S740 Interpersonal Social Work Practice: Theory and Research (3 cr.) This seminar provides an in-depth orientation to the place of research in social work. It focuses on methodological, methodological, practical, and ethical issues that affect the way in which research relevant to the profession of social work is conducted and used.

S790 Special Topics in Social Work Practice, Theory, and Research (Var: 1-3 cr.) P: approval by appropriate instructor. This course provides students with an opportunity to engage in focused study of a substantive area of social work practice directly related to the student’s identified area of theoretical and research interest. It is completed with the approval and under the guidance of a member of the Ph.D. faculty.

S800 Ph.D. Dissertation Research (12 cr.)

Indiana University

When you become a student at Indiana University, you join an academic community internationally known for the excellence and diversity of its programs. With 1,027 degree programs, the university attracts students from all 50 states and around the world. The full-time faculty numbers more than 4,000 and includes members of many academic societies such as the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the American Philosophical Society, and the National Academy of Sciences.

Indiana University was founded at Bloomington in 1820 and is one of the oldest and largest institutions of higher education in the Midwest. It serves 95,000 students on eight campuses. The residential campus at Bloomington and the urban center at Indianapolis form the core of the university. Campuses in Gary, Fort Wayne, Kokomo, New Albany, Richmond, and South Bend join Bloomington and Indianapolis in bringing an education of high quality within reach of all of Indiana’s citizens.

General Policies

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Policy of Indiana University

Indiana University pledges itself to continue its commitment to the achievement of equal opportunity within the university and throughout American society as a whole. In this regard, Indiana University will recruit, hire, promote, educate, and provide services to persons based upon their individual qualifications. Indiana University prohibits discrimination based on arbitrary consideration of such characteristics as age, color, disability, ethnicity, gender, marital status, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Indiana University shall take affirmative action, positive and extraordinary, to overcome the discriminatory effects of traditional policies and procedures with regard to the disabled, minorities, women, and Vietnam-era veterans.

An Affirmative Action office on each campus monitors the university’s policies and assists individuals who have questions or problems related to discrimination.

Special Assistance

For people who have disabilities and need special assistance, special arrangements can be made to accommodate most needs. In Bloomington, contact Disabled Student Services at (812) 855-7578; at IUPUI, contact Adaptive Educational Services at (317) 274-3241.

Confidentiality of Student Records

In accordance with federal statutes and regulations, student records are confidential and available for disclosure to persons other than the student only under stated conditions.

Student Rights and Responsibilities

A statement of students’ rights and responsibilities is published in a handbook, Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct, which contains a description of due process hearings in the event of disciplinary action.

Degree Requirements

Students are responsible for understanding all requirements for graduation and for completing them by the time they expect to graduate. Information about a specific school or division can be found in the front section of the bulletin for that school.

Requests for deviation from department, program, or school requirements may be granted only by written approval from the respective chairperson, director, or dean (or a designated administrative representative).

Disposition at each level is final.

Undergraduate Admissions Policy

Indiana University has adopted the following admissions policy to ensure that undergraduate students are properly prepared for college work. These standards seek to ensure either adequate academic preparation in high school or evidence of unusual motivation on the part of each student admitted to the university. Applicants for admission to Indiana University are expected to meet the following criteria.

Freshman Students

1. Graduation from an accredited Indiana high school or comparable out-of-state institution, successfully completing a minimum of 28 semesters of college-preparatory courses including the following:
   (a) Eight semesters of English. (One semester each of speech and journalism may be included.)
   (b) Four semesters of social science (economics, government, history, psychology, or sociology).
   (c) Four semesters of algebra (two semesters of which must be advanced algebra) and two semesters of geometry.
   (d) Two semesters of laboratory science (biology, chemistry, or physics).

1 Some academic programs require specific qualifications in addition to those enumerated in this policy.
(e) Eight semesters in some combination of foreign language; additional mathematics, laboratory science, or social science; computer science; and other courses of a college-preparatory nature.

(f) Four semesters of foreign language are strongly recommended.

(g) Courses to develop composition skills are strongly recommended.

2. A rank in the upper half of the high school graduating class for in-state residents and at least a 2.5 on a 4.0 scale for out-of-state residents.

3. A score above the median established by Indiana students on a nationally standardized test. Students who have been out of high school for three or more years do not have to submit test scores unless required for admission to specific programs.

4. Each campus may accept students who are deficient in (1), (2), or (3) of the above specifications upon receipt of such evidence as the combination of strength of college-preparatory program, rank in class, grades and grade trends in college-preparatory courses, and standardized test scores. For those who do not meet the above criteria and who have been out of high school three or more years, admission can be based on other factors such as a General Educational Development (GED) diploma, maturity, work experience, military service, and other factors as determined by the campus.

5. Each campus, at its discretion, may admit a student on a probationary basis and/or through faculty sponsorship.

6. Indiana residents are expected to complete Core 40, and the Academic Honors Diploma is encouraged.

Transfer to Other Indiana University Campuses

The policy stated below concerning transfer credit pertains to undergraduate students only.

Each campus has established one office to serve as the central information source for intercampus transfers. Some campuses have priority dates for students to declare an interest in making an intercampus transfer. Even if a campus has no priority date, it is important to start investigating the transfer requirements as early as possible to assure the best possibility of enrolling in your desired courses.

Consult the intercampus transfer Web site at www.iupui.edu/~moveiu for detailed information and a listing of campus contacts and intercampus transfer policies. You can also initiate an intercampus transfer by completing the form on the website.

Students who want to transfer from one Indiana University campus to another campus should follow these procedures:

1. Meet with your home campus advisor to discuss academic preparation, grades, and other eligibility issues. You can get a general idea of how your courses may apply to another degree by visiting the advising option on insite (insite.indiana.edu). While the advising capacity of insite is qualified by each individual’s circumstances, it can help you learn how courses will apply toward different degrees.

2. Consult the intercampus transfer office at the proposed new campus and/or eligibility questions remain. Remember that application for intercampus transfer does not guarantee admission to the campus or a specific school on the campus. Campuses may provide additional information and contact points for questions.

3. If applicable, talk to the financial aid offices at the present and proposed campuses. Your aid eligibility does not transfer automatically from one campus to another.

4. Visit the new campus to explore possible academic and social adjustment issues; some campuses may establish special open house events for those students who have expressed interest. If you attend a special orientation program or take placement examinations.

5. If you decide to proceed with the transfer, complete the intercampus transfer form. The receiving campus will respond to you and your home campus. If you decide later not to transfer, you should notify both campuses.

Rules Determining Resident and Nonresident Student Status for Indiana University Fee Purposes

These Rules establish the policy under which students shall be classified as residents or nonresidents upon all campuses of Indiana University for fee purposes.

Nonresident students shall pay a nonresident fee in addition to fees paid by a resident student.

These Rules shall take effect February 1, 1974; provided, that no person properly classified as a resident student prior to February 1, 1974, shall be adversely affected by this Rule, if he or she attended the University before that date and while he or she remains continuously enrolled in the University.

1. “Residence” as the term, or any of its variations (e.g., “resided”), as used in the context of these Rules, means the place where an individual has his or her permanent home, at which he or she resides when not elsewhere for labor, studies, or other special or temporary purposes, and to which he or she returns in seasons of repose. It is the place a person has voluntarily fixed as a permanent habitation for himself or herself with an intent to remain in such place for an indefinite period. A person at any one time has but one residence, and a residence cannot be lost until another is gained.

2. Each intercampus transfer office at the proposed new campus and/or academic or/eligibility questions remain. Remember that application for intercampus transfer does not guarantee admission to the campus or a specific school on the campus. Campuses may provide additional information and contact points for questions.

3. If applicable, talk to the financial aid offices at the present and proposed campuses. Your aid eligibility does not transfer automatically from one campus to another.

4. Visit the new campus to explore possible academic and social adjustment issues; some campuses may establish special open house events for those students who have expressed interest. If you attend a special orientation program or take placement examinations.

5. If you decide to proceed with the transfer, complete the intercampus transfer form. The receiving campus will respond to you and your home campus. If you decide later not to transfer, you should notify both campuses.

University, subject to the exception in (c) below.

(a) The residence of an unemancipated person under 21 years of age follows that of the parents or of a legal guardian who has actual custody of such person and administers the property of such person. In the case of divorce or separation, if either parent meets the residence requirements, such person will be considered a resident student under this rule.

(b) If such person comes from another state or country for the predominant purpose of attending the University, he or she shall be considered a nonresident student upon the basis of the residence of a guardian in fact, except upon appeal to the Standing Committee on Residence in each case.

(c) Such person may be classified as a resident student without meeting the 12-month residence requirement within Indiana if his or her presence in Indiana results from the establishment by his or her parents of their residence within the state and if he or she proves that the move was predominantly for reasons other than to enable such person to become entitled to the status of “resident student.”

(d) When it shall appear that the parents of a person properly classified as a “residential student” who has been deemed to remain a resident student so long as any such reclassification shall be effective unless the beginning of a semester next following such removal.

(e) A person once properly classified as a resident student shall be deemed to remain a resident student so long as remaining continuously enrolled in the University until such person’s degree shall have been earned, subject to the provisions of subparagraph (d) above.

2. The foreign citizenship of a person shall not be a factor in determining resident student status if such person has legal capacity to remain permanently in the United States.

3. A person classified as a nonresident student may show that he or she is exempt from paying nonresident fees by living in Indiana, subject to the exception in (c) below.
The residence claimed by the student must be considered relevant in evaluating a requested change in a student’s nonresident status and in evaluating whether his or her physical presence in Indiana is the predominant purpose of attending a college, university, or other institution of higher education. The existence of one or more of these factors will not require a finding of resident student status, nor shall the nonexistence of one or more require a finding of nonresident student status. All factors will be considered in combination, and ordinarily resident student status will not result from the doing of acts which are required or routinely done by sojourners in the state or which are merely auxiliary to the fulfillment of educational purposes.

(a) The residence of a student’s parents or guardians.
(b) The situs of the source of the student’s income.
(c) To whom a student pays his or her taxes, including property taxes.
(d) The state in which a student’s automobile is registered.
(e) The state issuing the student’s driver’s license.
(f) Where the student is registered to vote.
(g) The marriage of the student to a resident of Indiana.
(h) Ownership of property in Indiana and outside of Indiana.
(i) The residence claimed by the student on loan applications, federal income tax returns, and other documents.
(j) The place of the student’s summer employment, attendance at summer school, or vacation.
(k) The student’s future plans including committed place of future employment or future studies.
(l) Membership in a licensed profession in Indiana.
(m) Membership in civic, community, and other organizations in Indiana or elsewhere.
(n) All present and intended future connections or contacts outside of Indiana.

The Registrar or the person fulfilling those duties on each campus shall classify each student as resident or nonresident and may require proof of all relevant facts. The burden of proof is upon the student making a claim to a resident student status.

A Standing Committee on Residence shall be appointed by the President of the University and shall include two students from among such as may be nominated by the student body presidents of one or more of the campuses of the university. If fewer than four are nominated, the President may appoint from among students not nominated.

The Standing Committee on Residence is authorized to classify a student as a resident student, though not meeting the specific requirements herein set forth, if such student’s situation presents unusual circumstances and the individual classification is within the general scope of these Rules. The decision of the Committee shall be final and shall be deemed equivalent to a decision of the Trustees of Indiana University.

A student or prospective student who shall knowingly provide false information or shall refuse to provide or shall conceal information for the purpose of improperly achieving resident student status shall be subject to the full range of penalties, including expulsion, provided for by the University, as well as to such other punishment which may be provided for by law.

If any provision of these Rules or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of these Rules which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of these Rules are severable.

A student who does not pay additional monies which may be due because of his or her classification as a nonresident student within 30 days after demand, shall thereupon be indefinitely suspended.

If any provision of these Rules or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of these Rules which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of these Rules are severable.
Fees

The instructional fees listed here were approved at the June 2001 meeting of the Trustees of Indiana University. Fees are subject to change by action of the trustees. For up-to-date information about fees in effect at registration time, see the campus Schedule of Classes.

Certain courses and programs requiring studios, laboratories, microscopes, computers, or other special equipment may involve special fees in addition to the instructional fee. Applied music, student teaching, and some physical education courses also carry additional fees. See the campus Schedule of Classes for a list of such courses and programs.

Fees for Indiana University campuses other than Bloomington and Indianapolis are published in the bulletin of the specific campus.

1. Includes credit courses in the School of Continuing Studies.
2. Fee is assessed if deferred billing option is elected.
3. The health fee is assessed each semester/session on the bursar’s bill for all day and evening students enrolled in more than 3 credit hours. Eligible individuals not covered by the health fee will be assessed on a fee-for-service basis.
4. Any payment due from you to the university that is not received by the due date is subject to a monthly late fee based on a sliding scale of at least $10.00 (fee of $20.00 to $999.99) and as much as $50.00 (for $50,000 or more). The late fee will continue to be assessed monthly until the account is restored to good standing.
5. After drop/add period (100 percent refund period), students will be assessed $22.00 in Bloomington and $19.50 in Indianapolis for each added course, section change, or credit/audit change. On the Bloomington campus, students will also be assessed for each dropped course.
6. A late registration fee will be assessed any student who does not register during the scheduled registration period. On the Bloomington campus, the fee is $56.00 for students who register by the last Friday before classes begin and increases by $10.00 on the Monday of each successive week to a maximum of $96.00. On the Indianapolis campus, a $42.00 late registration fee is in effect upon conclusion of registration through the end of the first week of classes, increasing by $24.00 the first week, $22.00 the second week, and $12.00 the third week to a maximum of $100.00. In Indianapolis summer sessions, a late registration fee of $42.00 is assessed the first week, and $66.00 the second week and thereafter.
7. Bloomington students enrolled in 3 or fewer credit hours during the fall and spring semesters pay a mandatory student activity fee of $29.43. Students enrolled in more than 3 credit hours pay $58.07. Summer-session students pay a fee per session according to the number of credit hours in which they are enrolled, or 3 or fewer credit hours, $14.70; more than 3 credit hours, $29.43. At Indianapolis, students pay a fee according to the number of credit hours in which they are enrolled each semester: 0.5 to 5.5 credit hours, $26.00; 6 to 8.5 credit hours, $35.60; 9 to 11.5 credit hours, $46.00; and more than 11.5 credit hours, $49.00. Indianapolis students are also charged a $28.80 Athletic Development fee each semester.
8. A technology fee will be assessed according to the number of enrolled credit hours as follows: 3 credit hours or fewer, greater than 3 credit hours.
9. At Bloomington, summer-session students are assessed half the regular-semester technology fee, based on the number of credit hours as follows: 3 credit hours or fewer, greater than 3 credit hours.
10. At Indianapolis, a technology fee is assessed for summer sessions according to the number of enrolled credit hours as follows: 3 or fewer credit hours, $14.70; more than 3 credit hours, $29.43. At Indianapolis, students pay a fee according to the number of credit hours in which they are enrolled each semester: 0.5 to 5.5 credit hours, $26.00; 6 to 8.5 credit hours, $35.60; 9 to 11.5 credit hours, $46.00; and more than 11.5 credit hours, $49.00. Indianapolis students are also charged a $28.80 Athletic Development fee each semester.

It is the responsibility of the veteran or veteran dependent to sign up for benefits each semester or summer session of enrollment. It is also the responsibility of the veteran or veteran dependent on the Bloomington campus to notify the Office of Veterans Affairs of any schedule change that may increase or decrease the amount of benefits allowed. Veterans and veteran dependents on the IUPUI campus should notify the Office of the Registrar.

Veterans with service-connected disabilities may qualify for the Department of Veterans Affairs Vocational Rehabilitation Program. They should contact their regional VA office for eligibility information. At IUPUI, veterans and veteran dependents must notify their veteran benefit representative in the Office of the Registrar in person at the time of registration.

1 Students on the IUPUI campus who are taking Summer I or II classes lasting more than six weeks should check with a VA representative in the Office of the Registrar for positive verification of their benefit status.

1 Two bulletins are issued: graduate and undergraduate. Undergraduate information about the Schools of Business and Nursing at IUPUI is found in the IUPUI campus bulletin.
2 Bulletins on the General Studies Degree Program and the Independent Study Program are available from this school.
3 There are two Indiana University schools of law. Be sure to specify whether you want a bulletin of the Bloomington or Indianapolis school.
4 Available only to admitted University Division students.
5 IUPUI produces one campus bulletin including information about all schools listed here. Schools marked with an asterisk (*) also produce separate bulletins.
