The committee discussed the revised version of the student code of conduct procedures. The student representative was not present to inform the committee of the outcome of students' research regarding the use of legal counsel in proceedings. The decision regarding this language was deferred to the following meeting.

Members discussed the use of a preamble as used by Adams State College. This preamble explains that the procedures are not like legal proceedings. It was agreed to ask Adams State College for permission to use their preamble and to include it in the Code if permission is given.

Minor changes in wording were also discussed. The committee will meet again on Monday, March 27 for a final reading of the document.

The committee adjourned at 10:30 am.

Chair's note: The faculty Senate President at Adams State College has given permission to use their preamble.
