Secondary Education Degree Program Reaches Milestone

Fall 2007 was the inaugural semester for the fast growing and very popular B.S. Secondary Education degree program. Johathan Guse was the first student to be admitted to this program. On April 9th, Cassie Carroll, a Biology major, decided that working with young people is the path she wants to follow. Cassie met with Ed Stipp, Secondary Education Advisor, to finalize her admission to become the 100th student to be admitted to the program. We welcome Cassie to the B.S. Secondary Education degree program and we are excited about the continued interest and growth in the undergraduate program.

Take Back the Night

Education Learning Community students learn the importance of helping others by participating in the "Take Back the Night Angel Walk" by starting a fundraising team. Kellie McDonald and Heather Finkbiner, co-chairs of the Education fundraising team, is selling smiley faces for $1 to represent each person against domestic violence. The team consists of 26 education students and faculty from the learning community. We welcome and encourage everyone to participate in "Take Back the Night" on April 22, 2008 at 5:00 PM in Alumni Hall.

Annual Early Childhood Education Fair

On Tuesday, April 15th, the Early Childhood Education students, coordinated by Shirley Aamidor, held the 2nd Annual Early Childhood Fair to raise awareness of resources and opportunities for families of young children. More than 40 organizations were represented including childcare facilities, libraries, and health and child development organizations.

Mayor Greg Goodnight was in attendance to read the Proclamation declaring April 15th the Day of the Young Child in collaboration with IU Kokomo Division of Education and the City of Kokomo. IU Kokomo was well represented by Ruth Person, Chancellor; Marilyn Skinner, Early Childhood Education Director; Dean Cantu, Dean of Education; and Charlotte Miller, Coordinator of Education and Student Resources.
