

IU Bloomington Campus Map

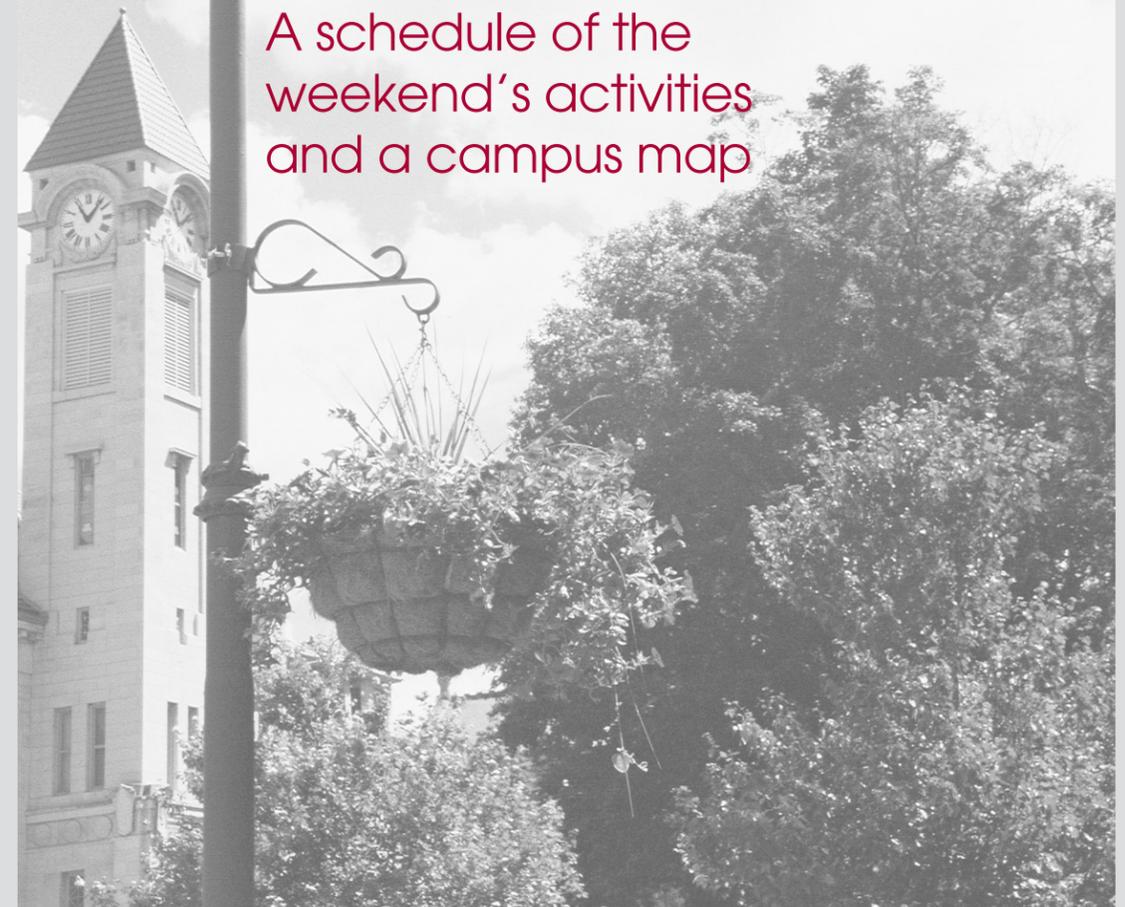

Parents Weekend 2007

November 2-4

Welcome to

A schedule of the weekend's activities and a campus map

This brochure is brought to you by the IU Parents Association, (812) 855-8187.

Parents

Nov. 2-4

Friday, Nov. 2

Wylie House Tour, 10 a.m.–2 p.m., 317 E. Second Street. Take a tour of one of Bloomington's oldest surviving structures. Wylie House, built in 1835 by IU's first president, Andrew Wylie, is now operated as a historic house museum. The home is furnished in period antiques, including some significant Wylie family artifacts. Gardeners will be interested in the heirloom plants grown on site. Call (812) 855-6224.

Lilly Library Tour, 4 p.m., East Seventh Street. The Lilly Library, IU's rare book and manuscript library, has more than 400,000 rare books and 7,500,000 manuscripts. The exhibitions include books about clocks and time-keeping, as well as highlights from the collections such as the New Testament of the Gutenberg Bible, an Oscar won by director John Ford, the elephant folio of Audubon's Birds of America, and some of the world's smallest books. The Slocum Room featuring over 400 mechanical puzzles will also be open. Hours are Friday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Herman B Wells Library, corner of N. Jordan Ave. & E. Tenth St. We know what students think of libraries. They don't really care that we can help cite a Web page or create a bibliography. They want to know how a library can help them succeed in their everyday lives as college students. The Information Commons (IC) in the west tower of the Wells Library offers many opportunities for success. It's a place where students collaborate, learn, and create, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. By providing assistance, resources, and technology, we can help students get started on an assignment, print a poster, practice a presentation, and lots more. Stop in any time to see how the IUB Libraries and University Information Technology Services are transforming information access, research, and learning.

Division of Recreational Sports SRSC and HPER Tours, Informal tours, 10 a.m.–8 p.m., Friday through Sunday, SRSC lobby and HPER Wildermuth Gymnasium. Tour and work out at one of the country's leading campus recreational sports facilities. The 204,000-square-foot Student Recreational Sports Center, built at a cost of $22.5 million, has been one of the most active places on campus since it opened its doors in July 1995. SRSC highlights include the Counsilman/Billingsley Aquatic Center, three multi-sport gymnasiums, an elevated running track, and a strength and conditioning room with over 400 pieces of cardiovascular and weight-training equipment. At the School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation Building, explore the historic Wildermuth Gymnasium, visit the Royer Pool where legendary Olympic champion Mark Spitz trained, or take a walk around Woodlawn Field and the sprawling tennis courts. Parents accompanied by their son or daughter who is enrolled at IUB can use the facilities for free this weekend. Valid student ID is required, and parents must present a valid photo ID. Siblings can purchase a day pass. Age policies apply. The SRSC is open Friday, 6 a.m.–9 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m.–9 p.m.; Sunday, 8 a.m.–11:30 p.m. The HPER is open Friday, 11 a.m.–9 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m.–9 p.m.; Sunday, 8 a.m.–11:30 p.m. For details visit www.recsports.indiana.edu.

The Kinsey Institute Tour, 3 p.m., 313 Morrison Hall. Established in 1947 by Dr. Alfred Kinsey, The Kinsey Institute for Research in Sex, Gender, and Reproduction currently holds the original interview data from Kinsey's groundbreaking work, over 7,000 original works of art, 75,000 photographic images dating from 1880 to present, and artifacts over 2,000 years of history. The library holds nearly 90,000 books, journals, and magazines. Tours include an overview of current research and a walk through the library and art gallery. For more information, visit www.kinseyinstitute.org. Call (812) 855-7686 to reserve space; tour size is limited.

Helene G. Simon Hillel Center, 730 E. Third Street, (812) 336-3824, e-mail hillel@indiana.edu. Shabbat observance begins at 6 p.m. with Reform, Reconstructionist, Conservative, and Orthodox services. A homemade Shabbat dinner is served at 7 p.m., following services. Dinner is free. Call for reservations; walk-ins also welcome.

Chabad House—Jewish Student Center, 518 E. Seventh Street, e-mail rabi@indiana.edu, (812) 332-4511. For some students, it's a place of education and opportunity; for other students, it's a place where lifelong friendships are formed. For many, it's a warm and welcoming place for Shabbat and holidays; for others, it's a social center. But for all students, it's an oasis and a haven at Indiana University. Join us for a Shabbat experience at Chabad House. Services are at 5:30 p.m., followed by dinner. Enjoy a delicious, home-cooked Friday night dinner complete with song, celebration, and stimulating conversation. Dinner reservations are required. You are very welcome to stop by any time during your visit!

Saturday, Nov. 3

Red Hot Football Breakfast, * 8–10:30 a.m., Tudor Room, Indiana Memorial Union. No weekend visit to IUB is complete without a visit to the Tudor Room. Located on the first floor of the IMU, the Tudor Room provides a formal or casual dining atmosphere. Advance reservations are strongly encouraged and can be made by calling (812) 855-1620.

Academic Open Houses/Tours, 9–11 a.m. Attend an academic open house hosted by one of IU's nationally renowned schools or the Herman B Wells Library. Academic open houses may include

- Parents Weekend is presented by the IUB Parents Association: (812) 855-8187, e-mail philli@indiana.edu or mykidis@indiana.edu. Jointly sponsored by the Division of Student Affairs, the IU Foundation, and the IU Alumni Association, the IU Parents Association offers families information about IU's programs, facilities, services, and campus.
- Hotels, motels, B&Bs: Hotel rooms in Bloomington are limited. Please call the Convention and Visitors Bureau for hotel availability and phone numbers at (800) 800-0037 or visit their Web site at www.visitbloomington.com.
- Downtown Bloomington: First Friday Specials and Promotions: Downtown welcomes IU parents. Enjoy our vibrant historic courthouse square featuring more than 400 shops and services, 90 restaurants, galleries, and attractions. Register at www.downtownbloomington.com as a Friend of First Friday to have a listing of activities sent to you each month.
- Parking on Campus: During Parents Weekend, you can park in most areas of the campus from 5 p.m. Friday to 11 p.m. Sunday. This includes A, B, and C spaces as well as D and E spaces adjacent to residence halls (24-hour A spaces and reserved spaces are not included). Check www.parking.indiana.edu for more information.
- Campus Information—The IUB Call Center: The IU Call Center offers operator services to students, faculty, staff, and parents 24 hours a day, every day of the year, from across the street or around the world. Should you need a phone number or general information about the campus or events, call the Bloomington office at (812) 855-IUIU (855-4848). Also, operators can assist with directions and bus schedule information to get you where you need to be. Viewed as one of the important "front doors" to the campus, the IU Call Center prides itself in cheerfully assisting callers with their informational needs.

Stay connected. Send your questions to mykidis@indiana.edu.

Indiana University shapes the future one student at a time, and the IU Parents Fund helps shape Indiana University.

Weekend

Indiana University Bloomington

Parents Association Hospitality Tent and Big Red Warm-Up, two hours prior to kickoff, Memorial Stadium

All parents and families are invited to join us for a pregame gathering under a tent on the east side of the stadium. Look for our Parents Association sign. Enjoy complimentary refreshments and visit with campus officials and Parents Association Board members.

Football: IU vs. Ball State, Kickoff time TBA, Memorial Stadium. Come out and cheer the Hoosiers as they take on the Cardinals at THE ROCK. There is nothing better than spending a Saturday afternoon with your family and attending a football game. Tickets: $38 for adults and $20 for youth; $10 in advance, $15 on game day for IU students. Tickets can be purchased by calling the IU Athletics ticket office at 1-866-IUSPORTS or (812) 855-4006. Visit IUHoosiers.com for more information.

Information Commons (IC) in the west tower of the Wells Library is just what today's students need: an information-rich, technologically enhanced location with easy access to the printed word and digital data. It's a place where students collaborate, learn, and create 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Stop in any time to see how the IUB Libraries and University Information Technology Services have collaborated to transform information access, research, and learning.

Helene G. Simon Hillel Center Brunch and Open House, 11 a.m.–1 p.m. 730 E. Third Street, (812) 336-3824, e-mail hillel@indiana.edu. Tour "your Jewish home away from home" and enjoy a complimentary brunch with other Jewish students and their families. Come see what makes Indiana Hillel one of the most exciting Hillel programs in the country. Call or e-mail for brunch reservations.

Wylie House Museum Tours, 10 a.m.–2 p.m., 307 E. Second St. (812) 855-6224. Wylie House was built in 1835 as the home of IU's first president, Andrew Wylie. Tour the historic house, furnished as it might have looked in the 1840s, and the heirloom gardens where we grow early 19th-century varieties of flowers, herbs, and vegetables. Wylie House is just a 10-minute walk southwest from the Indiana Memorial Union.

Lilly Library Tour, 4 p.m., E. Seventh Street. The Lilly Library, IU's rare book and manuscript library, has more than 400,000 rare books and 7,500,000 manuscripts. The exhibitions at this time include a selection of books about clocks and time-keeping, as well as highlights from the collections such as the

New Testament of the Gutenberg Bible, an Oscar won by director John Ford, the elephant folio of Audubon's Birds of America, and some of the world's smallest books. The Slocum Room featuring over 400 mechanical puzzles will also be open. Library hours are Friday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

IU Art Museum Tour, 2–3 p.m., E. Seventh Street, www.artmuseum.iu.edu. Enjoy a docent-led tour of the IU Art Museum, which is ranked among the foremost university art museums in the country. Three floors of the permanent collection include galleries filled with extraordinary works of art, from ancient gold jewelry and African masks to paintings by Monet and Picasso. The fall special exhibitions are Sculpture Transformed: The Work of Marjorie Schick and The Second Wave: Modern Japanese Prints. Museum hours during the weekend are Friday and Saturday, 10 a.m.–5 p.m., and Sunday, Noon–5 p.m.

Sunday, Nov. 4

Sunday Morning Brunch, 10:00 a.m.–2 p.m., Tudor Room, Indiana Memorial Union. No weekend visit to IUB is complete without brunch at the Tudor Room. Located on the first floor of the IMU, the Tudor Room provides a formal or casual dining atmosphere. Advance reservations are strongly encouraged; call (812) 855-1620.

IU Art Museum Tour, 2–3 p.m., E. Seventh Street. Ranked among the foremost university art museums in the country. Three floors of the permanent collection house the arts of Western civilization, Asia, Africa, the Pacific Islands, and the ancient Americas. Museum hours during the weekend are Friday and Saturday, 10 a.m.–5 p.m., and Sunday, Noon–5 p.m.

*Indicates charge for admission.

Time subject to change. In the event of a change in the starting time of the IU vs. Ball State football game, most events will begin two hours prior to kickoff.

refreshments, tours, sample classes, panel discussions, and a dean's presentation. Each program will vary, and all sessions are free of charge. All sessions begin at 9 a.m. unless otherwise noted.

- School of Education, Wendell Wright Education Building atrium. "Call to Teach" program honoring students admitted this year to Teacher Education begins at 9:30 a.m. Enjoy free refreshments. Everyone welcome.
- Kelley School of Business, Hall of Honor, second floor, 9–11:00 a.m. All academic departments will be represented, as well as Admissions (presentations at 9:10 a.m.), Diversity Initiatives, Business Advising Services, Alumni Programs, Civic Leadership Development, and various student clubs and organizations within the Kelley School of Business Undergraduate Program. A special presentation is scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m. in BU 219. Speakers will include Dan C. Smith, Dean of the Kelley School of Business, several Kelley School of Business students, and a representative of the Undergraduate Career Services Office. Light refreshments will be available.
- School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, in the foyer of Royer Pool
- School of Journalism, Ernie Pyle Hall, main office
- School of Public and Environmental Affairs, SPEA atrium. Matt Auer, director of undergraduate programs, will discuss Interdisciplinarity at SPEA. SPEA undergraduate advisor Liz Peck will be available for Q & A.
- University Division's Health Professions and PreLaw Center Open House, 9–11 a.m., Maxwell Hall 010, (812) 855-1873. IUB students who seek admission to competitive health or law-related professional schools and programs must excel academically and plan carefully. University Division's award-winning Health Professions and PreLaw Center (HPPLC) helps them meet their goals. HPPLC provides academic advising by experts in the areas of health and law, sequencing of requirements, and professional school/program application strategies. HPPLC also offers LSAT and MCAT review workshops, a recommendation service, and much more. Come meet the HPPLC staff and learn how they can support your student.
- Herman B Wells Library, corner of N. Jordan Ave. & E. Tenth St. Twenty-first century college students access information in ways that twentieth-century students could never have imagined. The

Your IUAA membership matters

Your IU Alumni Association membership matters! Keep connected to your child's university through the Alumni Association. Your dues support IU through programs that provide scholarships, student leadership programs, student recruitment efforts, and Commencement ceremonies to current students. Stay informed and stay involved!

Call (800) 824-3044, e-mail iuaamemb@indiana.edu, or visit www.alumni.indiana.edu.