3 NEW – PACE COURSES – BEGINNING FALL 2013

Here are some great NEW course offerings through PACE.

PACE-C 250 Leadership and Public Policy; 3 cr.; S&H (will not count for credit if you have taken PACE-C 211)

Class # 29677, 1:30-2:45 PM MW, Kirkwood 203, Weinberg

Class # 29678, 4:00-5:15 PM TuTh, Woodburn 106, Napoli

Health Care? Immigration? Climate Change? Same-Sex marriage? How do decisions on these and countless other major public issues get made in America? This course provides the answers by giving students an interdisciplinary introduction to public leadership and policy making in the United States. Students will begin by exploring important theoretical and empirical studies of leadership styles and the relationship between American politics and civil society. Then they will examine examples of public leadership and sites of public policy making from the local community to the national capital. In each section, discussion about specific individuals and issues will be used to illustrate the role of leaders and particular institutions at every level of American public life. The course will conclude by asking students to blend their understanding of theory and practice in American public leadership and policy making by analyzing an important current issue individually and as a class. Throughout the course, students will also be introduced to the primary skills of effective engagement in political and civic discussion, deliberation, advocacy, and action.

PACE-C 295 Citizenship and Careers; 2 cr.; graded S/F; requires authorization to enroll – contact pace @ Indiana.edu, 812-856-7882

Class # 29518. Meets Mondays, 4:00 – 6:00 PM. Sycamore 003, Bergonzi.
Some in-class meetings may be replaced by online work.

In what ways are you a consumer, a taxpayer, or a citizen? How might your personality preferences reveal good fits for your career choices? Taught in the classroom as well as through online work, students will bring the theories of the PACE program to the practice of citizenship skill development and career planning. The course will highlight the learning objectives of PACE while exploring individual style, personality type preferences through the Myers Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI), and individual strengths and values assessments. Students will assess personal goals and the use of PACE courses and their other undergraduate work as preparation for their remaining years of college and for post-college education, career, and political and civic engagement choices. Students will begin constructing personal statements for individual engagement portfolios in this class, to be continued in the PACE capstone course.

PACE-C 410 PACE Internship (1-6 cr.) Graded S/F [1 credit minimum if you have taken or are enrolled in Citizenship and Careers]

Meet with PACE Internship Director to discuss requirements and permission to enroll. Ballantine Hall 132, 812-856-1747 to make appointment. See <http://pace.indiana.edu/program/internship.shtml>

PACE-C 420 Readings and Research

Special 1-credit class # 32637: Leadership, Service & Advocacy: Food Policies and Priorities from Local to Global.

Friday 12:20 – 1:35 PM, Woodburn 203 (some in-class meetings will be replaced by project work)

This course includes a practice component of leadership, service, and advocacy in the context of food policy and poverty. First, we will examine a variety of economic, ecological, sociological and political dimensions of food in local, national, and international contexts. Investigating the policies and processes that drive the production, distribution, and consumption of food will be used to examine the effects of these policies and processes on our diet, our health, our economy and our environment from the local to the global. Then, we will analyze different approaches to leadership and advocacy as they relate to food policy and poverty. As a final project for the course, students will have the opportunity to put the knowledge and skills they have learned throughout the semester into practice by advocating for a local cause related to food and poverty or contributing to an existing Oxfam America initiative on the IU campus.

PACE-C 450 Capstone Seminar, class #11484, 4:00-6:00 PM Wed, Sycamore 003, Napoli

If you have completed all the other certificate requirements, you are eligible to enroll in C450 to complete the program. Please contact pace @ indiana.edu for authorization.

4 READY TO APPLY TO PACE?
