1 SPECIAL INVITATIONS:

Please reply as soon as possible. Space is limited for BOTH of these opportunities!

EFFECTIVE LEADERSHIP IN THE 21ST CENTURY

Wednesday, Oct. 17, 6:30-8:30 p.m., BU 301

PACE has invited Beth Applegate, organizational development consultant and IU adjunct faculty, to facilitate a workshop on Leadership and Change. It is co-sponsored by the Kelley Institute for Social Impact, whose student advisory board members are also being invited. It will be an evening of activities structured around individual and group skills. This event will embody the PACE goal of bringing theory to practice. Please email pace@indiana.edu if you wish to attend.

**If you have signed up through PACE-C 210 or C211, you already have a reservation.

The session will provide opportunities for participants to practice new skills through the following hands-on activities:

- Who Are You?: To lead change, leaders must first know themselves. Participants will leave the session with a map for increasing their ability to know themselves better, therefore empowered to communicate and interact with others more effectively.
- What's Your Theory of Change?: Participants will also analyze their own theory of change and better understand how change impacts people.
- What's Your Role?: Finally, participants will engage in the exploration of Role Theory. For leaders to understand and be able to maximize organizational performance, it is important that each member understands and plays the appropriate role at the right time.

ELECTION 2012: GIBBS V ROVE

Public Discussion on Political Behavior and the 2012 Election

Thursday, Oct. 18—a group from PACE will attend the event together, sitting in the special VIP reserved section near the front.

More details at http://themester.indiana.edu/events/rove\_gibbs.shtml

We have some more VIP tickets for students to attend this event at the IU Auditorium. PACE Director Michael Grossberg will gather with students at 6:15 PM at the PACE office in Ballantine in order to be at the Auditorium by 6:30. The only way to get these special reserved seats is to let us know that you will be here and then be sure to meet Mike by 6:15 that day. Reply to pace@indiana.edu. You may request a seat for a student friend by reserving it in their name. No bags or signs may be taken into the event.

2 2013 ISSUE FORUM CALLOUT MEETING FOR STUDENT LEADERS

Tuesday, October 23, 5:30 p.m.

PACE is holding a planning meeting for C400 Issues Forum. Please reply to pace@indiana.edu if you are interested in helping to plan and/or moderate the Issue Forum, even if you cannot make the fall meeting.

Area Events of Interest

3 IU AND CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY (CSR): ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION

ARC-IU (diversity and inclusion) Conference

Monday, October 15, 5:30-7:30 p.m., IMU, Frangipani Room

The purpose of this brainstorming session will be to gather a diverse, albeit small, group of key, campus-wide students, faculty and staff to have a conversation and develop some action steps. This session looks to hear from some student leaders who've had some success on this campus in regard to their advocacy around CSR. The focus will be to consider IU's relationships with corporate vendors, how and to what extent IU vets and selects the vendors with whom it contracts for on-campus products and services, and what action steps we might develop to positively influence IU's policies in regard to CSR. This session will use the recent concerns about Chick-Fil-A's presence at IU as a starting point. If you would like to be part of this discussion, please register for the conference/session, at <http://www.indiana.edu/~arciu/index.php>. Address questions to Trish Kerle', Director, Civic Leadership Development, Kelley School of Business, tkerle@indiana.edu.

7 NONPROFIT LEADERSHIP ALLIANCE NATIONAL CONFERENCE

January 2-5, 2013, Atlanta, GA

The NPLA (Nonprofit Leadership Alliance), formerly AH (American Humanics) national conference is open to all students (not just the ones getting the NPLA certificate). Networking (career exploration, expo); excellent workshops based on the competencies governing the program (fundraising, ethics, diversity, volunteer management and more); case study/service leadership projects at local NPs; prominent national keynote speakers. Interested students might want to meet/network with the NPLA Student Association before attending the conference; they will continue to meet and fundraise (as a group - we have nine undergrads going this year from the IUB program) for the rest of the semester.

Local Service Opportunities

9 2013 MLK JR. DAY EVENTS SUBMISSION

Students are invited to participate in Bloomington's annual MLK Jr. Day celebration. The campus-wide programming celebrates the life of Dr. King and provides opportunities for students, faculty, and staff to rally together in demonstration of the ideals and aspirations of Dr. King. The City of Bloomington is a key partner in the campus' effort to celebrate Dr. King and will provide small grants for groups interested in hosting a service learning project. Some ideas on how you can be part of the annual Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Day celebration:

- Encourage students to participate in the various activities and events.
- Host or co-sponsor a movie night with any student group on campus.
- Organize an event, meeting, or lecture that promotes a dialogue on issues or concerns affecting the living legacy of Dr. King.
- Notify the Office of Diversity, Equity, and Multicultural Affairs of any events planned in January that you may be aware of and would like to see included in the printed and electronic MLK Jr. Day Celebration calendar by sending the following information to mlkjr@indiana.edu: name/title of event, date, Venue, description (2-3 lines), contact person, email address.

If you are interested in any of these or other ideas for the month, please contact Roberta Radovich at rradovic@indiana.edu. The deadline for submitting events for the MLK Jr. Day Celebration calendar is November 9, 2012.
