ADA-Indiana Audio Conference

---

There has been a change in ADA-Indiana's Audio Conference programmed for Tuesday, April 17, 2007. The ADA Restoration Act, originally scheduled for April 17, has been rescheduled for Tuesday, May 15.

April's audio conference will now focus on how the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's (EEOC) Charge Data System (CDS) can be used to explore differences between the filing of discrimination claims at EEOC and state Fair Employment Practice Agency (FEPA) offices. Examining the disability employment discrimination charges filed with the EEOC and Fair Employment Practice Agencies within states can inform and create an understanding of where specific issues continue. For more information, contact Matt Norris at 1-800-825-4733, send e-mail to adainfo@indiana.edu, or visit <http://www.adaindiana.org>.

Wheelchair Tennis Clinic

The Indianapolis Community Tennis Association (ICTA), along with Rehabilitation Hospital of Indiana Sports Program (RHISP), is hosting a two-day tennis clinic on Saturday, April 14 (Southside Tennis Club, Indianapolis) and Sunday, April 15 (Indianapolis Racquet Club) designed specifically for persons who have physical disabilities.

Karen Korb, a two-time U.S. Paralympian and member of seven U.S.A. World Teams, will provide instruction over the course of this two-day clinic. Korb was the first female athlete with a physical disability to receive a Division I athletic scholarship to play collegiate wheelchair tennis.

Interested persons must be nine years of age or older to participate. Participants will learn the essentials of wheelchair pushing techniques, court movement strategies, and proper tennis strokes. For questions, contact Patrick Dean, RHISP Coordinator at (317) 329-2281 or e-mail pat.dean@rhin.com.

Summer Camp for Teachers

Educators, mark your calendars for either June 18-21 or June 25-28, and plan to attend the Institute's Center on Education and Life long Learning's Summer Camp for Teachers! All sessions will be held in Bloomington at Bloomington High School North. Teachers, administrators, and school teams at all grade levels are encouraged to attend.

Camp participants can choose from three available strands. They include:

- Classroom climate and discipline;
- Differentiated instruction; or
- Collaboration and co-teaching (Note: not offered during the June 18-21 session).

Registration fee is $225.00 per person. Three Indiana University graduate credits will be offered (credit fees are in addition to camp enrollment fees). For content or credit questions, contact Carrie Chapman at (812) 855-6508 or e-mail cechapma@indiana.edu. For questions pertaining to registration, contact Kay Moore at (812) 855-6508 or e-mail moorel@indiana.edu. Visit <http://www.iidc.indiana.edu/cell/> to learn more about the work of the Center.
