School of Nursing Seal

The Indiana University School of Nursing Seal was adopted in 1970 on the observance of the 150th Birthday of the University.

The Inner circle, including its shape, is taken from the seal of Indiana University, adopted in 1841. The open book is symbolic of education. Lux Et Veritas, Latin for the light and truth, is the motto of the University.

A ribbon-design border with the inscription "School of nursing" surrounds the inner circle and is adapted from the original school pin.

At the bottom of the border is 1914, the year of the opening of the school. The solid border surrounding the School of Nursing Seal, taken from the University Seal, has the inscription "Indianensis Universitatis Sigillum MDCCCXX." The translation is "Seal of Indiana University, 1820," the founding year of the University.

School of Nursing Pin

Graduates of the baccalaureate program receive School of Nursing pins which share many similarities and serve to bond together Indiana University alumni. In the center of the pin is the seal of Indiana University. An openness exists between the replica of the seal and outer circle, which designates the School of Nursing and the year the School of Nursing was founded, 1914.

Florence Nightingale Pledge

The Nightingale Pledge, developed at the Farrand School of Nursing, Harper Hospital, Detroit, was intended to be a call to order for nursing, to establish standards of conduct and to influence future guidelines of the profession. In celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Florence Nightingale Pledge, the December 1993 Bachelor of Science in Nursing graduates modified the pledge for recitation. The current Bachelor of Science in Nursing and Registered Nurse Bachelor of Science graduates are proud to carry on the tradition.

"I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly to practice my profession faithfully. I will safeguard my clients and the public when health care and safety are at stake. I vow to adhere to the legal and ethical principles of the profession in a competent manner. I will devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care. I will do all in my power to elevate the standards of my profession and will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping in the practice of my profession."
