Budget: The Trustees of Indiana University have approved a 1976/77 operating budget totaling $374.9 million, of which $121.9 million, or 32.5 per cent, was appropriated by the 1976 General Assembly. The balance, $253 million, or 67.5 per cent, will come from student fees, gifts and grants, revenue from hospitals, and other income from sales and service.

The new budget is $33.6 million, or 9.8 per cent, higher than last year's. Of the additional money budgeted, $5.8 million is for personnel compensation, $4.6 million for additional faculty and staff personnel, $5.3 million for unavoidable costs, and $2 million for price inflation on supplies and expenses.

South Bend's total budget for the current fiscal year, including state appropriations and expected income, is $7,055,291, an increase of 12.9 per cent over 1975/76.

The budget breakdown for the I.U. campuses is:

IUSB	7,055,291	12.9%
IU Bloomington	107,000,000	8.7%
IUPUI	48,600,000	12.7%
IU East	1,287,305	19.5%
IU Kokomo	2,590,253	10.5%
IUN Gary	6,776,198	11.4%
IUS New Albany	4,112,167	17.4%
IUPU at Fort Wayne	11,690,723	9.9%

Music Degree Approved: The Indiana Commission for Higher Education has approved an associate degree program in Jazz and Commercial Music for the South Bend campus. The new associate of arts degree will be offered through IUSB's Division of General and Technical Studies.

Summer Films: A Summer Film Fest is under way on campus, sponsored by the Student Association. Two films a week are scheduled between now and August 11, including Alfred Hitchcock's Psycho at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. today; M*A*S*H, same times, July 20, and Catch-22 at 7:30 and 9:45 on July 21. These films will be shown in N158; some of the films scheduled for later in the summer will be shown in Northside Auditorium. Admission to all films is $1.

Shoestring Theatre: The last production on the IUSB Players' Guild summer schedule is Season of Dreams, an original comedy by Tom R. Vander Ven, English. Termed by its author a "comedy of discovery," the play involves a woman who discovers that domestic freedom has its price.

Performances are scheduled for July 29, 30, and 31 and August 5, 6, and 7, all in the Northside West Little Theatre. Tickets are available in the Little Theatre box office from 1 to 4 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

Student Recital: A recital by Sally Kirmser, string bass, accompanied by Cordelia Higgins, piano, will be held at 8:15 p.m. Friday, July 23, in Northside Auditorium. Admission is free.

July 14, 1976 -- No. 35
Mail Codes, I, II

SUVON Dialing: Persons calling Kokomo city numbers on SUVON now can obtain a city dial tone by dialing "9" after the code for the Kokomo campus. The Kokomo campus operator no longer will extend SUVON calls to city numbers.

Publications Exhibit: The Spring 1976 brochure of courses offered by IUSB's Division of Continuing Education is part of an exhibit prepared by I.U. Publications to showcase systemwide publications making use of the Bicentennial theme. IUSB's commencement program also appears in the display, which features informational or promotional pieces from all eight I.U. campuses. The exhibit will be shown at the national assembly of the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education in Washington, D.C., during the week following July 15. It will then be returned to Indiana for showings throughout the University system.

Author Needed: The Indiana Legislature is looking for a scholar to write a multi-volume original history of the first 100 Indiana General Assemblies, 1816-1978. The author must have experience in historical research and writing, as well as publishing experience, and must have a doctorate in history or political science. This is a full-time position, and the author's office must be located in Indianapolis. Starting salary range is $18,000-22,000; scheduled completion date for the project is November 1, 1981. Applicants should submit personal resumes to John A. Bremer, Associate Director of Research, Indiana Legislative Council, 301 State House, Indianapolis 46204. Telephone (317) 269-3738. A description of standards to be followed in preparing the work is available in the University Relations office.

Position Available: I.U.-Bloomington seeks an Assistant to the Dean of the University Division. Primary responsibilities include advising prospective students, visiting high schools, and conducting special on-campus programs. Previous experience in student recruiting and/or secondary or higher education desirable; master's degree preferred. Salary $7,500-9,000. Candidates must be available September 1. Send letter of application and current resume by August 1 to Mr. Herb Fairfield, Chairperson, Screening and Interview Committee, University Division, Maxwell 104.

Faculty Activities: The International String Quartet (Chihiro and Machie Kudo, violin; James Van Valkenburg, viola, and Lutz Rath, cello) are on tour in Europe this summer. Reviews from West Germany include the following comments: "Intensity, facility, and fullness of sound, mellowness and warmth of string-tone were the inspiring signals of chamber music playing of great beauty. The International String Quartet... may surely be counted already among the elite ensembles." -- Krefelder Stadtpost, May 14. "The quartet...showed with its appearance in Krefeld an advanced maturity....Fine string-singing...clear shaping of phrases...striking virtuosity." -- West German Zeitung, May 14.

Fred J. Naffziger, Business Administration, presented a paper titled "Age Discrimination Legislation: The View from the Federal Courts" at the recent Western Economic Association meeting held in San Francisco.

Eldon E. Ruff, Education, conducted a two-day workshop June 9 and 10 in St. Louis, Mo., on "Legislative Development within the Counseling Profession," dealing with the process of creating, initiating, and passing legislation. The workshop was sponsored by the American Personnel and Guidance Association.

Patrick J. Ryan, Mathematics, is the author of "Programming Discrete Structures in PL/1," which appears in the proceedings of the third annual Conference on Instructional Computing Applications, I.U. Computing Network, March 5. Dr. Ryan also participated in a five-day regional conference on symplectic manifolds sponsored by the National Science Foundation March 8-12 at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Marcia Sheridan, Education, appeared on WRBR's "Women in Focus" June 6 to discuss the Women's Career Center and sex-role stereotyping in education.

John W. Toth, Communication Arts, is a member of the acting company at the Colorado Shakespeare Festival this summer in Boulder. Members of the acting company for the festival, sponsored by the University of Colorado, are chosen by audition from applicants across the country. Dr. Toth will appear in productions of King John and The Tempest.
