1 RACE AND POVERTY IN THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM: TALK BY PROF. STEPHEN BRIGHT:

Wednesday, November 28, 12 noon, Maurer School of Law, Moot Court

A College of Arts and Sciences Themester event, co-sponsored by PACE, SPEA, Maurer School of Law, and the Departments of Criminal Justice and Political Science. Prof. Bright is president and senior counsel of the Southern Center for Human Rights and teaches at Yale Law School. Subjects of his litigation, teaching and writing include capital punishment, legal representation for poor people accused of crimes, conditions and practices in prisons and jails, racial discrimination in the criminal justice system, judicial independence, and sentencing. He has twice argued and won cases before the United States Supreme Court, and he has testified on many occasions before committees of both the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives. Pizza will be served at the talk.

2 SPRING 2013 ENROLLMENT

View a list of PACE courses for the upcoming semester, as well as electives that count toward the PACE certificate, at the PACE home page, <http://pace.indiana.edu/>. You can find a handy course listing search for Spring 2013, with course descriptions, through the College of Arts and Sciences, at <http://college.indiana.edu/undergrad/courses.php>. If you'd like to learn more about how you might best fit your curriculum and priorities with the PACE certificate program, please contact our office at 812-856-1747 to make an appointment.

Beginning students are encouraged to check in about upcoming changes in the certificate requirements, especially if you have not yet completed an internship!

PACE is offering the core courses in the spring:

PACE-C 210 Public Leadership, and PACE-C 211 Making Public Decisions.

Spring is the final semester that these courses will be offered in their current versions.

Take them while you can!

Try this new course—to enhance your professional development and to begin the electronic portfolio that you will complete in the capstone course:

PACE-C 410 Internship: Citizenship and Careers, 2 cr., meets first 8 weeks only. Class #30242, 1:25-2:15 p.m., M & W

In what ways are you a citizen and do you participate in public life? How do you envision your future? How might your personality preferences reveal good fits for your career choices?

THIS COURSE is part of the new certificate requirements: this two-credit course will be combined with a minimum of ONE internship credit (though you may take up to 6 credits of C410.) Come in to discuss how this might apply for your curriculum.

Any IUB student can enroll for this 1 day, 1 credit hour event in the spring semester:

PACE-C 400 Issue Forum: Climate Change: What Should We Do About It?, 1 cr., class #25628, meets only on Saturday, Feb. 23.

After a pre-forum short reading response paper, students attend the Forum on Saturday, Feb. 23, and then write a position paper afterward. The one-day practice in democratic deliberation is structured around a complex issue facing the community or society as a whole. Participants will experience dialogue and deliberation with others from various perspectives while forming a position on the issue. Students will also be asked to reflect on the experience and skills practiced. Students may take C400 (1 credit) and attend the Forum multiple years for up to three credits total.

5 INDIANAPOLIS TEACHING FELLOWS

When it comes to student success, nothing at school matters more than the quality of the teacher at the front of the class. Indianapolis Teaching Fellows is a highly selective program that trains accomplished professionals and outstanding recent college graduates to become excellent teachers for Indiana schools. Master foundational skills during the summer so you are prepared to lead focused and engaged classrooms from day one. Classroom-centered training and intensive coaching throughout your first year will help you quickly develop from being a good teacher to a great one. Pursue certification and complete a Master of Arts in Teaching while earning a full-time salary teaching subjects – like math, science, Spanish, and special education – in Indianapolis and Northwest Indiana. A bachelor's degree is required; no education coursework or experience is necessary. Apply now at www.indianapolisteachingfellows.org.
