IALA Fall Assessment Conference

Join us for an exciting Indiana Academic Librarians Assn (IALA) fall program on library assessment with Dr. Gwen Lee-Thomas, Director of Assessment at the Rose Hulman Institute of Technology. Gwen Lee-Thomas and participants will cover the do's and don'ts of good assessment methodology, understanding the difference between helpful and unhelpful questions, staying focused in the process, effective ways of reporting the finds, and using the information. In addition to the hands-on interactivity, supplemental materials for additional reading will be provided.

John Robson, Director of the John A. Logan Library at Rose Hulman, will also give us some insight on how he used the assessment information gathered with the assistance of Dr. Lee-Thomas.

The highly positive comments of your colleagues regarding Dr. Lee-Thomas' brief presentation at last ILF conference program on this topic, prompted the IALA to offer this more extensive, interactive workshop. Participants may send an assessment instrument they have already tried or are developing by September 15th to:
