- Would you be interested in taking the core course PACE-C 210 Public Leadership during summer?
- Do you need to apply to PACE and arrange an internship to earn credit?

Courses are offered for any interested students.

OR: Earn credit toward the certificate in Political and Civic Engagement this summer!

A list of Summer 2012 core/elective courses of interest that count for PACE can be found at

<http://pace.indiana.edu/forms/summer%202012%20courses%20for%20PACE.pdf>

Certificate core course, open to any interested student:

PACE-C 210 Public Leadership, instructor: Lisa-Marie Napoli. Meets second 6 week session, June 18 – July 27, 10:20 A.M. – 12:10 P.M. MTWR

Throughout American history, leaders and followers create change. What makes a public leader in America? Who are they and what impact do they have on democratic and civil society? This course looks at leadership through the lenses of theory and practice, providing opportunities for students: to analyze public leadership through readings, films, exercises and discussions; to consider and practice communication and behavioral skills; and to reflect on personal development as the next generation of public leaders. C210 is a core course requirement for the certificate in Political and Civic Engagement. See <http://pace.indiana.edu>

INTERNSHIPS, PACE-C 410 credit – See scholarship information in the message above this newsletter.

If you plan on completing an internship this summer, please secure the signed site letter of understanding and the first part filled in on the C410 internship proposal. When we have discussed these, I will post online authorization for you to enroll in C410 credit and you may apply for the scholarship. See <http://pace.indiana.edu/program/internship.shtml> for links to forms and more info.

Scholarship requests will be accepted through April 20.

3 FALL REGISTRATION

Please review the beginning list of fall courses below and note –

--if you plan on taking the PACE capstone course this fall, PACE-C 450 taught by Prof. Margie Hershey, it will meet on Mondays from 4 to 6 P.M. You must have completed all the other certificate requirements in order to take the capstone, including the internship final reflection paper and debriefing meeting with Joelene. (C450 will also be offered in spring 2013 led by Michael Grossberg, PACE Director.) Students who wish to have online authorization to enroll for PACE-C 450, please reply. Thank you!

Fall 2012 Courses that count toward PACE certificate
PACE-C 210 Public Leadership, S&H, PACE core course requirement
Weinberg, 4:00-5:15 P.M., Mon/Wed, Ballantine 147

Throughout American history, leaders and followers create change. What makes a public leader in America? Who are they and what impact do they have on democratic and civil society? This course looks at leadership through the lenses of theory and practice, providing opportunities for students: to analyze public leadership through readings, films, exercises and discussions; to consider and practice communication and behavioral skills; and to reflect on personal development as the next generation of public leaders. C210 is a core course requirement for the certificate in Political and Civic Engagement.

PACE-C 211 Making Public Decisions, S&H, PACE core course requirement
Napoli, 4:00-5:15 P.M., Tues/Thurs, Ballantine 147

Taxes? Immigration? Climate Change? Same-Sex Marriage? How do decisions on these and countless other major public issues get made in America? This course provides the answers by giving students an interdisciplinary introduction to public decision-making in the United States from the local community to the national capital. Students learn about the role of political institutions and civic organizations such as political parties, faith-based associations, neighborhoods groups, advocacy non-profits, legislatures, courts, administrative bureaus, and the media. They also learn the primary skills needed for effective engagement in political and civic discussion, deliberation, communication, advocacy and action. The course concludes by asking students to make individual and group decisions about a major issue facing Americans today.

~~~~~
PACE-C 300 Issues in PACE: GOOD BEHAVIOR, BAD BEHAVIOR IN PUBLIC LIFE

[counts as an 'inside the College' upper-level course for majors in the College and toward the PACE certificate as an upper-level elective; part of Themester 2012]

Libby & Bergonzi, 9:30-10:45 A.M., Tues/Thurs, Ballantine 140

This course will examine a variety of forms of public behavior ranging from social protest to civil disobedience to consumer boycotts to community deliberation/mediation. Using historical and contemporary examples from the United States, we will consider our assumptions and judgments of what constitutes good and bad behavior and the overlap with appropriate and inappropriate behavior and effective and ineffective behavior in public life by both individuals and groups. A few areas in the public domain --for example: electoral politics, the information commons, and environmental decisions -- will ground our analysis of public behavior. Some questions that we will address in relation to these public spheres include: How has the political system created good and bad patterns of behavior? What is the relationship between anonymity and good and bad behavior in communication between citizens and the sharing of public knowledge? What are the relationships among good and bad behavior, effective behavior, and appropriate behavior? An important focus of our studies will be an examination of whether potential and actual conflict serves as a creative opportunity to approach divisive issues, choose behavior, and be effective as citizens. To that end, we will introduce theories, examples, and practices that can be used to make more effective behavioral choices as citizens, such as mediation and negotiation, active listening, democratic deliberation, cyber-advocacy, and the like. Each student will have multiple opportunities to contribute his or her own perceptions and values to the construction of knowledge in this course. Each student will be encouraged to develop his or her understanding of what constitutes good and bad behavior in American public life.

4 PACE ADVISING: Please meet with our advisor to plan for fall enrollment in order to be prepared to succeed in fitting in your priorities.

Joelene Bergonzi is your advising contact for PACE and to discuss your curriculum requirements and general interests. Please stop by to set up a time to consult with her, Ballantine 132, or you can call the office at 812-856-1747. She can help you clarify how to fit in your priorities for your degree, refer you to resources that suit your interests, and be sure that you are progressing through the certificate requirements.

[from Joelene] In order of importance, when I consult with you, we can discuss:

- What courses or programs or internships might interest you
- How to choose courses that can double count for PACE and for your major or minor
- How to add the PACE certificate
- How to arrange your internship

5 ALICE RIVLIN: DEBT, LEADERSHIP, AND POLARIZED POLITICS

Thursday, April 5, 4:30 – 5:45 P.M., Kelley Graduate Building CG 1050

Alice Rivlin, a member of President Barack Obama's bipartisan National Commission on Fiscal Responsibility and Reform, founding director of the Congressional Budget Office and a senior fellow at the Brookings Institution, will speak at Indiana University Bloomington on Thursday, April 5. Rivlin served as the first director of the Congressional Budget Office from 1975 to 1983. During the Clinton administration, she was director of the Office of Management and Budget from 1994 to 1996, becoming the first woman to hold the Cabinet-level position. She served as governor and vice chairwoman of the Federal Reserve from 1996 to 1999. She has outspokenly raised questions about the viability of U.S. federal deficits and the need for significant entitlement and tax reforms. <http://info.kelley.iu.edu/news/page/normal/21559.html>

6 IU CULTURE OF CARE WEEK

April 9-14

In response to the increase in crime-related occurrences and the social and emotional health on the IU Bloomington campus, various student groups are hosting an educational campaign. The first annual Culture of Care Week focuses on promoting education for bystander intervention, drug and alcohol abuse, mental health, and sexual assault. Highlights include a screening of "Bullied: A Student, a School and a Case that Made History" on Monday, April 9 at 7 P.M. in the Whittenberger and a talk with Jaclyn Friedman on Tuesday, April 10 in Woodburn 100 at 7:30 P.M. Find out more by following @IUCultureofCare on Twitter and liking CultureofCareWeek on Facebook. Email iusacare@indiana.edu with questions or to get involved!

7 A CONVERSATION WITH PBS NEWS ANCHOR JIM LEHRER

Friday, April 13, 4 P.M., Ballantine Hall 013

Jim Lehrer, distinguished journalist and executive editor and anchor of the "PBS NewsHour," will speak at Indiana University Bloomington. During the program Lehrer will discuss the 2012 election campaign and presidential debates, which he discusses in his new book, "Tension City: Inside the Presidential Debates, from Kennedy-Nixon to Obama-McCain." While Lehrer is on campus, the Center on Congress and the Institute for Advanced Study will present him with the first Lee H. Hamilton Public Service Fellowship. The public is welcome, but because of limited seating, free tickets will be distributed (beginning Monday, April 2) in Ernie Pyle Hall, 940 E. Seventh St., Room 200.
