INTERNATIONAL STUDIES LIBRARIAN

I am pleased to announce that David Oldenkamp has accepted the position of International Studies Librarian effective August 1, 2005. David?s most recent professional position has been as Social Sciences Reference Librarian in the Trexler Library at Muhlenberg College in Allentown, Pennsylvania. David earned his MLS from the School of Information Studies at Syracuse University. In addition, he has a Master of Arts in International Relations from the Syracuse University Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs. At Muhlenberg, David provided reference and instruction services, was the collection development and subject liaison for the Communication, Education, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology/Anthropology Departments, and collected and maintained the social sciences portion of the U.S. government document collection.

As International Studies Librarian, David?s principal duties will include serving as the liaison and outreach librarian for International Studies, a new interdisciplinary major (http://www.indiana.edu/~intlweb/index.shtml). He will provide instructional support to the students in the University?s new residential program, The Global Village Living-Learning Center (http://www.indiana.edu/%7Ecollege/global/) and will also provide reference and instruction services in the Information Commons Undergraduate Services Department. David will be the collections and public services specialist for the United Nations depository collection, international documents, and selected nongovernmental agencies.

I would like to thank the Search and Screen Committee for their excellent work under the leadership of Lou Malcomb, Chair, with members Jeff Graf, Elinor Okada, Luis Gonzalez, Lynda Clendenning, Dan Knudsen, and Ginny Sojdehei (ex-officio). Thank you also to Betty Davis for her support of the committee?s work.

PRIVACY ADVISORY GROUP

The Privacy Advisory Group (PAG) has begun working on a number of privacy policy related matters as charged by the Director of Public Services, Carolyn Walters. If staff have questions or issues that they would like to call to our attention, we encourage them to contact any member of PAG. Our charges include:

Integrate approved privacy policy statements into existing policies where appropriate.

o Establish policies and guidelines for data from reference transactions, email, and similar transactions.

o Make recommendations about needed equipment to safeguard privacy (e.g., locked cabinets, shredders, etc.)

o Oversee training for library staff on good privacy practices

o Work with the Web Editorial Board to develop standardized announcements for Find Information pages to alert users to the benefits and risks of personalized services.

o Maintain the Privacy Pathfinder

o Be aware of UITS and other University wide policies and make recommendations for change as appropriate.

The group will be encouraged to call on resource people from units such as LIBERA, LIT, and Customer and Access Services for additional help. Members: Garett Montanez, chair, Phil Bantin, Julie Bobay, Linda Butler, Jane Goldsmith, Randy Lent, Lou Malcomb, and Sylvia Turchyn.

ONESEARCH@IU

The IUB Libraries launched our first version of OneSearch@IU on Friday, 7/15. This message summarizes the major changes to the libraries? web site. Watch for changes and improvements over the next several months as we do usability testing and get experiences and reactions from library staff.

WHAT IS ONESEARCH@IU?

OneSearch @IU is a new search tool that allows you to search multiple databases at once and identify subject specific resources. OneSearch@IU returns a single result set consisting of the first 10 references from each database searched. (If more results are desired, you can request the next set of 10, or can increase the number to be returned up to 100.) In addition to displaying the first 10 results from each database searched, OneSearch@IU also displays the total number of hits from each database, which can help identify primary databases to search for a specific topic. Use the ?Show Search Progress? link on the left side of the page to see the count of hits from each database.

WHAT DATABASES ARE INCLUDED IN ONESEARCH@IU?

As of today, approximately 70 of the IUB Libraries? 400+ Find Information resources are available in OneSearch@IU, with more being added continually. Available databases are noted with a box to the left of the database; check the box (up to 8 maximum) to include that database in your search.

WHERE CAN I FIND ONESEARCH@IU?

1. ?QuickSearch? (searches pre-selected multi-disciplinary databases)

- Libraries Home Page, last link under ?Find Information?
- Find Information ?Search All? (click radio button for OneSearch@IU)

2. Subject-specific lists of databases (selected by collection managers; user selects up to 8 databases from list)

- Find Information, ?Databases by Subject?
- Libraries Departments and Collections, ?Recommended Resources?

3. List of all databases that are available for OneSearch@IU

- QuickSearch page, ?All OneSearch Sources? link

MY ONESEARCH

A personalization feature, MyOneSearch allows you to save, browse, combine and email citations you have marked. The system does not save a search history, but you can keep track of marked citations and connect to available full-text through the Citation Linker. You must logon to MyOneSearch BEFORE you perform a search and mark records. Click ?MyOneSearch? from the Quick Search page to logon. NOTE: The CAS login to this feature is experiencing some problems. We anticipate that it will be fixed by the end of the day on Tuesday, 7/19.

HOW CAN I GET TO THE FULL-TEXT?

Click on the title of the article you want to see. Some databases take you directly to the full-text from OneSearch@IU; others take you to a citation in the database where you need to click the IULink button or other full-text link.

CAN I E-MAIL OR PRINT MY CITATIONS?

Mark the citations you want to keep and click on the "Email Marked Titles" link on the left side of the page. When prompted, type in your complete email--anyone@indiana.edu--to send the records. You may also email a set of records from within MyOneSearch. To print records, mark the citations you want to keep and click the "Show/Print Marked Titles" link on the left side of the screen. You will see a page with only the records you marked. Use the browser's print function to print out the page. Because printer margin settings sometimes can cause difficulties, you may wish to print the pages out in "landscape" mode.

CAN I LEAVE ONESEARCH@IU AND SEARCH DIRECTLY IN A SINGLE DATABASE?S INTERFACE?

Yes. Clicking on any citation will take you to the database itself. From there you can search within the database just as if you had logged into it directly.

HOW SHOULD I REPORT PROBLEMS?

For major problems (entire system down, etc.), contact LIT during normal working hours. In the evenings and on weekends, contact the Reference Desk and ask them to verify the problem and contact the LIT Emergency Phone. There will soon be an entry in the LIT Help Desk as well. For other problems, (e.g., database connector not working, etc,) send a message by clicking on the ?Contact Us? link on any OneSearch@IU page.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN A DATABASE CONNECTOR IS BROKEN?

Database connectors can sometimes break when the vendor changes the search interface. Sometimes, a database connector failure may just be a temporary glitch. Reported problems are re-tested and then reported to the company. If the repair will take more than a short time, the database will be removed from the OneSearch lists and the check box will be removed form the library web pages until the connector is working again.

WHERE CAN I LEARN MORE?

- Check the FAQ:

?pageId=3434

- Attend a brief orientation session for library staff: Wednesday, July 20 at 10:00 am in E174.

- Collection managers ? watch for upcoming training sessions on the processes for managing your databases in the libraries web site, including OneSearch@IU.
