1. THANKS!

A big thanks to Elaine Hehner of SALC and Kendra Boileau of MPS for getting the bookplate books picked out for the Student Recognition Reception. They did an excellent job in a very short amount of time and their efforts are greatly appreciated!

2. STAFF NEWS

Effective April 1, Tim Larson accepted the Retrospective Conversion Project Manager position in IOCM. Prior to accepting this position, Tim was Senior Retrospective Conversion Cataloger in IOCM.

Effective April 6, Tim Ryder accepted the Computer Coordinator position in Libraries Information Technology. Tim has worked at University Information Technology Services for the past two years. He has a BA degree in Arts and Sciences from IU.

Anthony Stamatoplos, Instructional Team, IUPUI University Library was involved in a recent publication for the Title VI Anniversary National Conference held April 16-17, 1998 in Washington, D.C. The publication is as follows: "International and Area Studies Resources: A Selected Guide" compiled and edited by Robert Goehlert, Roberta Astroff and Anthony Stamatoplos.

Rachael Stoeltje, Image Collections Care Coordinator in the IUL-B Preservation Department, presented a talk on "Implementing the Preservation Needs of the Image Collections at Indiana University" at the Midwest Regional Conservation Guild conference held in Bloomington on April 4-5.

3. CORRECTION TO LAST WEEK'S STAFF NEWS

While Allen Hutchison's office is physically located in the Music Library, his position is in Libraries Information Technology. Allen will be supporting systems for the Variations Project in the Music Library but also for other Digital Library Program projects.

4. POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT

Librarian for African Studies - Assistant Librarian, Associate Librarian, or Librarian. For more information or a copy of the complete posting, please contact Betty Andis, Libraries Human Resources, Main Library C-201, Indiana University, Bloomington, IN 47405, e-mail bandis@indiana.edu or phone: (812) 855-8196 ☎.

Names of the search and screen committee members will be announced at a later date.

5. UPDATE FROM THE REFERENCE DEPARTMENT, IUB

We have just completed the installation of a second high speed networked HP laser printer to our web cluster. The printers are both adapted to duplex printing in order to cut our paper costs in half. This cluster also includes two "Multi-Lingual" workstations supporting the correct display and printing of web pages from many linguistic families (all Pan-European languages, including all Slavic languages and other European languages that make use of diacritics, and CJK - Chinese, Japanese and Korean). They are the only such public web workstations we know of. Read more about it at <http://www.indiana.edu/~librcsd/multi>

We also continue to maintain a large cluster of standalone stations serving many compact disk products; many titles resident in this cluster have migrated to network distribution. That is our goal for most and many more will as web based versions become available. A newer title of general interest is Women'sR, a full text product which offers access to some journals we do not own in print and may be of interest to those in Women's and Gender Studies. It is published by the same group that provides Ethnic Newswatch. A complete list of all titles in the cluster is in preparation and will be on our website within the month.

Last, we want to remind you about some web searching aids of use to all of us on all campuses:

"Reference Collection" (<http://www.indiana.edu/~librcsd/db/refcat>) This search page allows a discrete search of the 40,000 volume Reference Collection in IUB. Since our reference collections across the state share many common titles it may be helpful to all in using local collections as well as in locating additional resources. We use it regularly and find it extremely helpful. It also automatically generates a monthly new acquisitions list.

"Search Libweb" This very powerful search engine (using Infoseek's software) which appears on the sidebar of most all top IUB Libraries' web pages (URL: < <http://www.indiana.edu/~lbsearch/iulib> > <http://www.indiana.edu/~lbsearch/iulib>) is searching the pages of most all our libraries, system-wide. Sometimes that can be frustrating when looking for a common resource we all own but it can be incredibly useful when looking for a fairly unique resource (for instance "Lilly Library Manuscripts" or "Ruth Lilly Special Collections" or "World News Connection", formerly FBIS -- that will work too!) The search engine was funded by the endowment of the Walden Librarian, Julie Bobay.

6. CALL NUMBER LABEL REQUEST REMINDER

All requests for call number labels and call number corrections must be sent to Shelf Preparation in MPS, Main Library E350. Do not address them, or use old flags addressed to, Bindery, Conservation, or Preservation. Contact Linda Kamoji (lkamoji@indiana.edu, 855-1666) if you have any questions.

7. PLUG-IN TO THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY FROM YOUR OWN LAPTOP!

The IUPUI University Library (UL) now has over 300 study carols with dedicated connection lines to the IUPUI campus network. Patrons who bring laptop systems with network cards into the UL will be able to access online services and servers on the campus network, and also the Internet!

As of April 20, 1998, network cards will give patrons access to the campus network where they can utilize a special UL server. This server will offer the entire suite of library digital research and reference databases and information services directly from the laptop. It will create a window on the user's laptop, which looks and works just like the Library Information System interface on the over 250 Public Scholar's Workstations located in the library.

The University Library is one of the first libraries in the country to make all their information databases available to walk-in laptop users. Utilizing new technology, the UL staff has deployed a Citrix WinFrame server, which will initially allow 25 users to concurrently access library information resources. In another technology-first for libraries, this service actually gives users access and use of CD-ROM resources via the Internet. The technology is scalable, so the UL can increase the number of users if the demand merits such a decision. As an Internet based service, the Citrix WinFrame system will eventually be made available to the entire campus and then anywhere on the Internet. Access outside the building will depend on blending user identification and authentication needs into the campus-based user databases.

To make library services available on laptops, the Independent Computing Architecture (ICA) thin client software provided by Citrix needs to be installed. The software is free and is available:

- 1) in the UL on diskette for $3.00,
- 2) via the campus FTP server,
- 3) as a download from the library homepage.

More information will be available in handouts at the University Library and on the Internet at: <http://www-lib.iupui.edu/toolbox/ranotice.html> --Norman Brandenstein External Relations Team IUPUI University Library Indianapolis, Indiana (317) 278-0232 ☎

8. FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR AWARDS FOR U.S. FACULTY AND PROFESSIONALS

1999-2000 COMPETITION

The competition for 1999-2000 Fulbright scholar awards opens on March 1, 1998. Opportunities for lecturing or advance research in nearly 130 countries are available to college and university faculty and professionals outside academe. Awards range from two months to a full academic year, and many assignments are flexible to the needs of the grantee.

Virtually all disciplines participate: openings exist in almost every area of arts and humanities, social sciences, natural and applied sciences, and professional fields such as business, journalism, and law.

The deadline for lecturing or research grants for 1999-2000 is AUGUST 1, 1998. Other deadlines are in effect for special programs: distinguished Fulbright Chairs in Western Europe and Canada (May 1) and Fulbright seminars for international education and academic administrators (November 1).

For further information, contact Roxana Ma Newman, Asst. Dean, OIP, Bryan Hall #205, Bloomington, 812-855-8467 ☎; Fax 855-6884; e-mail: rmnewman@indiana.edu

9. LECTURE AT LILLY LIBRARY

The Friends of the Lilly Library is sponsoring a lecture by Professor Kenneth Johnston on Sunday, April 19, at 4:00 p.m. in the Lilly Library. The lecture, "The Hidden Wordsworth: Poet, Lover, Rebel, Spy," will discuss Johnston's radical reinterpretation of Wordsworth's image. Johnston will also discuss the process he used to write his forthcoming biography discuss ideas and concerns for the upcoming 25th anniversary of faculty status.

Please RSVP to Edy Feazel at efeazel@iuk.edu or (765) 455-9437 by April 21st.

13. NAN BROOKS AT WYLIE HOUSE

On Sunday, April 26, at 2 pm, Nan Brooks (well-known for her outstanding interpretation of Eleanor Roosevelt) will present a new historical program at Wylie House Museum. "Dr. Mary, Turn of the Century Physician" is based on the character of Mary Binford Bruner, MD, a prominent Quaker doctor of Greenfield, Indiana and teacher at Earlham College. The Doctor will present an address to the audience, then continue to mingle while old-fashioned refreshments are served on the porch. Tickets for the performance are $10 each. A limited number are still available. E-mail Bill Lawrence at wlawrenc or call 855-6224 or pager 337-6909 for ticket information.

14. REGIONAL CAMPUS LIBRARY FACULTY SURVEY

Please note that this survey form is ONLY applicable for regional campus libraries, not for Bloomington and IUPUI campus libraries.
