Staff Updates, IUB*

Effective October 24, Jeanne Myers resigned from her position as Senior Circulation Assistant in the Fine Arts Library.

Effective October 29, Rowan Harris accepted the position of Serials Control Coordinator in Acquisitions at IU-Bloomington. Prior to accepting this position, Rowan worked as a student employee in the Fine Arts Library. She has a B.A. in Art History from Indiana University.

Librarian Retirement at University Library, IUPUI*

The IUPUI University Library has announced the retirement of associate librarian, Marie Turner Wright, who began her IUPUI professional association in 1981 as the head of Government Documents and as a reference librarian. Marie also provided service as acting head of Public Services at the 38th Street Science and Engineering Library, and most recently served with the University Library Reference and Research, External Relations and Resource Development Teams. In addition, she was a children's literature specialist.

Turner Wright received her A.B. in English, with a minor in Folklore, and a Masters in Library Science, both from Indiana University. She then stepped into library leadership as branch manager of the Emerson Library with the Indianapolis Marion County Public Library.

Since beginning her tenure at the IUPUI University Library, Turner Wright has provided undergraduate instruction for the IUPUI School of Liberal Arts, English Department, and the IU Kokomo Humanities Division. Most recently, as a member of the University Library External Relations Team, she provided site coordination for a series of special programs featuring the American Library Association national touring exhibitions of The Many Realms of King Arthur, The Frontier in American Culture, and The Jazz Age in Paris: 1914-1940, and a LIVE @ Your Library program, A Tribute to Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong: New Orleans, Chicago, Harlem, the World.

Honors and awards received by Turner Wright include the Herbert S. and Virginia White Professional Development Award, Indiana University; the Glen W. Irvin, Jr., M.D. Experience Excellence Recognition Award, IUPUI; and the T-Sun-Ga-Ni Award of Merit from the Crossroads of America chapter of the Boy Scouts of America. Her professional associations include the American Library Association's Intellectual Freedom Committee and Association of College and Research Libraries, Indiana Library Federation, Freedom to Read Foundation, and the Writers' Center of Indianapolis Board of Directors.

*Herron Student Art & Eiteljorg Museum Native American Month Display

The IUPUI University Library will present a display of book art binding by students of a Herron School of Art class, November 5 - 29, 2001, in the Level One Lobby display area during regular Library hours. The book binding display will include the creative works of students Philip Austin, Anthony Cain, Angela Fritz, Mandy Falco, Martha Hartwell, Kelly Holden, Jennifer Knapek, Autumn Mitchell, Rebecca Padget, Greg Prosser, Erin Reeser, and Shanay Sotomayor.

These Herron students, with instruction by professors Karen Baldner and Paul Brown, have participated in the introductory year of principles for binding books and extending the book into expressive formats. Professor Baldner explained, "The intention is to integrate narrative content with materials and binding styles to find optimal expressive statements. Traditional and non-traditional book binding formats were used, involving cutting, folding and sewing techniques including Japanese stab binding, french doors, concertina and piano hinge."

Autumn harvest activities and celebrations will be the focus of the Native American Heritage programs during the month of November at the Eiteljorg Museum of American Indians and Western Art. In support of this program, the IUPUI University Library will also host a display of Native artifacts and museum program materials for the month of November.

From November 3 - 17, a range of traditional native cultural elements will be featured at the Eiteljorg Museum, located within walking distance of IUPUI, adjacent to the White River State Park. Museum programs will include the work of visiting artist Helena Guzman', the opening exhibition of the Eiteljorg Fellowship for Native American Fine Art, authentic dinners with members of the Miami Nation of Indians, and the Harvest Celebration Family Day. For further information about the Eiteljorg Museum, call (317) 636-9378, or visit the web site: <http://www.eiteljorg.org>

For hours, parking and additional information about IUPUI University Library displays, call (317) 278-0232 or visit the library web site: <http://www.ulib.iupui.edu>
