IU Kokomo students, faculty, and staff can learn about IT resources at the New to IT expo.

Learn about IU Kokomo technology resources at New to IT expo

KOKOMO, Ind. — Come learn about Indiana University Kokomo’s technology resources, play a game on a big-screen monitor, and enjoy a free walking taco, all at the annual New to IT@IU Tech Expo.

Students, faculty, and staff are invited to visit with vendors and learn the ins and outs of using campus technology during the event, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday, September 24, in Alumni Hall.

“This is especially a great opportunity for new students to learn about the resources we have on campus, to get them connected and keep them connected,” said Kathy Kennedy, interim campus web manager.

The first 100 students who engage with at least three vendors will receive free T-shirts. Vendors include Dell, AT&T, UITS-Kokomo IT Training, the IU Kokomo Internet radio club, the new media academic club, the library, Verizon, Lenovo, and CDWG.

There will also be battle gaming demonstrations on three large monitors, featuring Xbox 360, Nintendo Wii, and Ouya, and a gadgets showcase featuring Google glass.

Indiana University Kokomo serves north central Indiana.
