

A RESOLUTION OF THANKS TO PRESIDENT MICHAEL A. MCROBBIE

WHEREAS Michael A. McRobbie has served Indiana University for twenty-four years, fourteen of them as its 18th president; and

WHEREAS he has overseen a great expansion in the size and quality of the student body; and

WHEREAS through his indefatigable travels to every continent except—to the best of our knowledge—Antarctica, he has made Indiana University's name known and respected throughout the world; and

WHEREAS he has littered our campuses with many scores of construction sites from which have grown magnificent and sorely needed buildings; and

WHEREAS he has established a bewildering array of new schools, many rising immediately to national prominence; and

WHEREAS he celebrated the University's bicentennial by raising three billion dollars to support the University in its next century; and

WHEREAS he steered the University with a steady hand through its greatest crisis in at least a century; and

WHEREAS during all of this he has shown his respect for and pride in the University's faculty by his steadfast support for faculty governance; then

BE IT RESOLVED that this body, the Indiana University Faculty Council, a body conceived in and dedicated to the ideals of shared governance, collectively expresses its respect and gratitude for President Michael A. McRobbie's service to Indiana University and its hope that he will have many happy and restful years as president emeritus and, not least, as a professor emeritus of Indiana University.

Given this day, Tuesday, April 27th, 2021, in the 201st year of Indiana University.
