M.B.A. students host business, career success panel event

KOKOMO, Ind. — Business students can gain advice and tips for beginning successful careers, at the Indiana University Kokomo Master of Business Administration Association's (M.B.A.A.) first-ever career preparation panel. The free event is set for 5 to 7:30 p.m. Thursday, November 14, in the Kelley Student Center, Room 130.

Five volunteer panelists, all in successful business careers, will answer questions submitted by business students, and talk about interviews, finding a mentor, selecting a career path, and preparing a professional resumé, among other topics.

"This is a great opportunity for students to ask all the questions they have, and get answers from business executives," said Gabby VanAlstine, M.B.A.A. president. "The event will be student-centered, because we asked them to submit questions they wanted to be asked. We hope students will leave the event feeling more confident or better prepared to enter the workforce, and understand what it will take for them to get their foot in the door."

Panelists include John Sigler, Kokomo Grain; Donald Smith, First Farmer's Bank & Trust; Diana TenBrook, Solidarity Community Federal Credit Union; Travis Trott, Finish Master; and Paul Wyman, The Wyman Group, LLC.
