Promotion and Tenure Announcement

This spring the 2006-2007 IULFC Promotion and Tenure Committee will be offering two workshops on the P & T Process and one workshop on preparing the dossier.

One workshop will be offered on the IU Bloomington campus on May 10, 2007, 10:00 am - 1:30 pm, Wells Library, West Tower-TLTC Conference Room. This workshop will also be available via Polycom. Contact Diane Dallis (ddallis@indiana.edu) for questions concerning this workshop.

The other workshop will be offered at IPFW's Warsaw Center, May 18, 2007, 10:00 am - 12:30 pm, Room 109. (Driving directions and map:

<http://www.ipfw.edu/warsaw/directions.shtml>). Contact Cheryl Truesdell (truesdel@ipfw.edu) to register or ask questions.

The IULFC Promotion and Tenure Committee will provide a workshop entitled "When is Less More? Preparing a Succinct and Effective Dossier" at IU Librarian's Day, June 1, 2007, IU Bloomington, Memorial Union, 3:30 pm - 4:00 pm. This workshop will provide useful information concerning dossier preparation, content, and presentation.

In addition, there will be a panel discussion at IU Librarian's Day,

1:15 pm - 2:00 pm, on Promotion and Tenure at IU, especially in light of the decision by IUPUI to pull out of the systemwide IU Libraries Promotion and Tenure process.

Please plan to attend one or more of these sessions.

Brown Bag Presentation

The Bloomington Library Faculty Continuing Education Committee invites you to attend a brown bag presentation by Moira Smith, Librarian for Anthropology, Folklore, Sociology, & Social Work, on Wednesday, May 9, 12:00-1:30 in Wells Library, E174.

The event is co-sponsored by InULA.

"Practical Jokes, Unlaughter, and the Mohammed Cartoon Controversy."

In 2006, the world was gripped by riots and demonstrations over some cartoons that depicted the prophet Mohammed. Buildings were torched and some people died in the uproar. If ever one needed a reminder that humor is not a trivial matter, this was it. In my research into practical jokes I have developed a theory of the humor audience that throws light on the cartoon controversy. Here I will present this theory, including the power of both laughter and its opposite--unlaughter. (Moira Smith)

Refreshments will be provided.

Archive-it Pilot Group

Please come and join our local Archive-it Pilot Group on Tuesday, May 1 from 9 to 10:30 am in room E174 of the Wells Library to hear about the development of the "Web Archives at Indiana University." This project was established to collect and preserve primary source materials on the web using the Archive-It service and the Internet Archive's Wayback Machine (<http://www.archive.org/web/web.php>) technology.

Since fall 2005, the Indiana University Libraries have been participating in this RLG-sponsored program to help to preserve and archive freely-available sites on the web. At IUB, a team of library staff representing Cataloging, Collection Development, and the University Archives have been developing methods to select, catalog, and provide access to these born-digital materials. Members of the Pilot Group will talk about our cross-departmental collaboration, the scope of the project, and how you can use these archived web sites in your teaching and research. Scholars and researchers can use these collections to trace changes in publicly accessible web sites and retrieve information that is no longer currently available on the web.

Currently, these three collections are being archived:

Indiana University Web Sites (<http://www.archive-it.org/collections/219>)

Indiana: State and Local Documents (<http://www.archive-it.org/collections/221>)

National Government Statistical Web Sites (<http://www.archive-it.org/collections/317>)

Members of the Archive-it Pilot Group are: Phil Bantin, Julie Bobay, Mechael Charbonneau, Lou Malcomb, Cecile Jagodzinski, Linda Kamoji, Dina Kellams, Linda Kelsey, Charla Lancaster, Andrea Singer, Sylvia Turchyn, and Brian Winterman.

Intellectual Freedom Round Table Offering an Exciting Preconference for ALA Annual 2007!

Celebrating the Library Bill of Rights

Thursday, June 21, 2007, 1:00 pm - 4:00 pm

Spend an afternoon with library intellectual freedom activists from around the United States as we celebrate one of our profession's most important documents: The American Library Association's Library Bill of Rights. A panel of speakers who have faced challenges will talk about what the LBOR means to them. Then, there will be an opportunity to participate in facilitated table discussions of the many LBOR interpretations that have been passed by ALA Council over the years.

This program is guaranteed to engage and enthuse participants.

Tickets: $25

To register, just check off Celebrating the Library Bill of Rights on your ALA paper or online form. If you've already registered for the Conference, call 1-800-545-2433 extension 5 to add this preconference to your itinerary. For more information on the American Library Association Annual Conference, please visit www.ala.org
