IU Trustees approve faculty promotions, tenure

KOKOMO, Ind. — The Indiana University Board of Trustees approved promotions and tenure for faculty members on the Kokomo campus.

Interim Chancellor Susan Sciame-Giesecke congratulated all of those who earned promotions.

“Achieving tenure and promotion at Indiana University is a great accomplishment and demonstrates the high quality faculty at IU Kokomo,” she said. “These faculty are being recognized as excellent teachers and scholars. We look forward to their leadership as IU Kokomo continues to grow and enhance the academic opportunities in this region.”

Those promoted include:

The following faculty were promoted to full professor: Dmitriy Chulkov and Michael Finkler.

Promoted to associate professor and tenure include: Mary Bourke, Christina Downey, and Andrew McFarland.

Also promoted to senior lecturer are Joshua Gottemoller and Linda Krause.

Indiana University Kokomo serves north central Indiana.
