*Current Contents Connect Training

Don Sechler from the Institute for Scientific Information will be giving two training sessions in the Main Library on November 13 for Current Contents Connect. The morning session (10:00-11:30, E-172) will be a hands-on training session where librarians and staff can be using CCC while he instructs. Currently the IUB license is for three concurrent users, but ISI will open that up on the 13th for training. The afternoon session (1:00-2:30, E-174) will be more of a presentation and descriptive format. Profiles and weekly current awareness alerts can be valuable tools for your users. Other faculty and staff are welcome to sign up as well, so please pass on this information to those that may have an interest. Sign up sheet is at www.indiana.edu/~libswain. There is also a link to the database itself on that page.
