IU Kokomo to live stream Commencement Tuesday

KOKOMO, Ind. — Friends and family of Indiana University Kokomo’s Class of 2013 can cheer for their favorite graduate wherever they are, as the campus provides its first-ever live stream broadcast of Commencement ceremonies.

Live streaming will be available at www.iuk.edu starting at 10:15 a.m. Tuesday, May 7. If Commencement moves indoors due to inclement weather, streaming for the morning ceremony will begin at 10:15 a.m., and for the afternoon ceremony at 1:15 p.m.

Ryan Bowman, director of alumni relations and campus ceremonies, said the webcast allows graduates to share their special day with even more people.

“We want all of our graduates’ family and friends to be able to see the Commencement celebration, even if they aren’t able to be in Kokomo,” he said. “They will see the entire ceremony, almost like they were there in person. We think this is a great way to enhance this celebration for our students.”

Indiana University Kokomo serves north central Indiana.
