Don't forget that this Sunday, November 4, is the end of Daylight Savings Time! Technically, Daylight Savings Time ends at 2am on Sunday morning.

Daylight Savings Time initially began in Germany in 1916. This occurred during the height of WWI, and was proposed as a way to preserve coal, which was the primary source of fuel at the time. Ironically, Arizona does not practice Daylight Savings Time for the same reason of conserving energy (An extra hour of sunlight while people are active causes people to run their cooling systems longer). Indiana has only practiced Daylight Savings Time since 2006.

Set your clock back one full hour and enjoy some extra sleep, extra time to run errands, or extra time to relax!

Publishing & Research Discussion Panel for Librarians: November 7, 2012

The BLFC's Continuing Education Committee & InULA's Ad Hoc Writing and Publishing Committee are partnering to host a Publishing & Research Discussion Panel. Panelists will include Erika Dowell, Moira Marsh, Dot Porter, and Virginia Sojdehei; each panelist will discuss a current research project and the panel will entertain more general questions concerning publishing and research for librarians if time permits.

Publishing & Research Discussion Panel Wednesday, November 7, 2012

11:35am -12:45pm

Wells 043 or via Adobe Connect: <http://connect.iu.edu/publishing/>

Please plan to attend this information sharing session. If you have any questions, please contact Lori Dekydtspotter, Chair of the BLFC's Continuing Education Committee (lodekydt@indiana.edu), or Chanitra Bishop, Chair of the InULA's Ad Hoc Writing and Publishing Committee (chbishop@indiana.edu).

Blacklight in Beta Introductory/Training Sessions

On Monday, November 5, and Tuesday, November 20, the IUL Discovery Layer Implementation Task Force will offer an introductory/training session on the new IUCAT discovery layer interface, Blacklight (<http://beta.iucat.iu.edu/>).

These one hour sessions will provide an overview of the interface, currently anticipated to go live later in the fall, as well as demonstrate search techniques and search result management. More advanced training will be offered in the future.

IUL Librarians are encouraged to attend one of the two sessions in person, or participate via Breeze, to familiarize themselves with this new interface.

Named for William Evans Jenkins, former Chief Librarian of Indiana University, this award may be presented annually to a current or former librarian on the Bloomington campus, in recognition of their outstanding contributions to the Indiana University Libraries or to the library profession in general. While eligibility for the award is limited to former and current Bloomington campus librarians, nominations may be made by any member of the Indiana University community.

Outstanding Bloomington Library Faculty colleagues deserve our recognition and appreciation. William Evans Jenkins should be remembered for his vision for the Indiana University Libraries and his commitment to the profession as a whole. By nominating a librarian you admire and respect, you are keeping the memory of William Evans Jenkins alive and inspiring others to perform at the highest level. Nominations for this award may be submitted individually or jointly.
