Staff News

I am pleased to announce that Moira Smith has agreed to assume the duties of Head of the Subject and Area Librarians Council (SALC), with a one-year appointment, effective February 1, 2007. Moira, who is Librarian for Anthropology, Folklore, Sociology, and Social Work, has been a member of SALC since February 1997. As Head of SALC, Moira will be responsible for coordinating the activities of the SALC librarians, and will represent them in various venues within the Libraries.

Moira follows African Studies Librarian Marion Frank-Wilson in the position. Marion, who served for two years in the rotating position of Head of SALC, was an able and effective leader of the unit, and I would like to take this opportunity to thank Marion for giving so generously of her time and talent to the Libraries and to her colleagues in SALC.
