Publishing Renaissance Speaker Series

Mark your calendars now to attend a speaker series sponsored by the Institute for Digital Arts and Humanities and the Indiana University Bloomington Libraries. Live streaming will be available for the IUPUI and Regional Campuses, and the URLs will be distributed at a later date.

To what extent should IU take responsibility for the dissemination of the scholarship and research produced here? What opportunities does the digital age provide scholars to heighten the impact and visibility of their research? Three preeminent experts will voice their perspectives in a thought-provoking series that will not only challenge our assumptions but also help chart our future.

Clifford Lynch, Executive Director, Coalition for Networked Information

What are the opportunities and implications for IU's publishing renaissance?

Date: Monday, May 12

Time: 4:00 p.m.

Location: Frangipani Room, IMU

InULA Spring Program : Artists' Books from the Fine Arts Library

The InULA Program & Social Committee is pleased to announce the Indiana University Librarians' Association (InULA) Spring Program, featuring the Fine Arts Library Artists' Book Collection, presented by Tony White, Head, Fine Arts Library, Indiana University Bloomington.

Please join us for a rare opportunity to see a unique collection held by the Fine Arts Library. Mr. White will present a talk on the Fine Arts Library's Artists' Book Collection including a sampling of works from that collection on Friday, May 16, 1:00-2:30pm in Room 102 of the Fine Arts Building on the IUB campus.

Over 1000 artists' books are in the Fine Arts Library Special Collection. This is a collection that is normally not presented or displayed outside the classroom or a rare special exhibit and this talk will be presented by the collection's curator, so don't miss out! A coffee and cookies reception following the talk will be held in the Indiana University Art Museum's Angles Café starting at 2:30pm. This event is open to InULA Members and Friends of InULA and is free of charge, so please join us! To become a Member ($10) or Friend ($3) of InULA, please visit .

Deadline to sign up to attend the Spring Program is May 12. To sign up, visit
