Intellectual Freedom Round Table Offering an Exciting Preconference for ALA Annual 2007!

Celebrating the Library Bill of Rights

Thursday, June 21, 2007, 1:00 pm - 4:00 pm

Spend an afternoon with library intellectual freedom activists from around the United States as we celebrate one of our profession's most important documents: The American Library Association's Library Bill of Rights. A panel of speakers who have faced challenges will talk about what the LBOR means to them. Then, there will be an opportunity to participate in facilitated table discussions of the many LBOR interpretations that have been passed by ALA Council over the years.

This program is guaranteed to engage and enthuse participants.

Tickets: $25

To register, just check off *Celebrating the Library Bill of Rights* on your ALA paper or online form. If you've already registered for the Conference, call 1-800-545-2433 extension 5 to add this preconference to your itinerary. For more information on the American Library Association Annual Conference, please visit www.ala.org

IUB Libraries Annual Report Wins Award

The IUB Libraries 2005-06 annual report, "It's Not All Black and White" received a silver medal in a nationwide competition sponsored by the Council for Advancement and Support of Education, the association for professionals who advance educational institutions.

Of the 143 entries submitted, judges awarded one grand gold medal, one gold, five silver and three bronze medals.

The print version used bold graphics and interactive folds to demonstrate the opposing demands that libraries face today in serving students and faculty, whose needs vary by discipline, assignment, or even time of day.

Congratulations to all librarians and staff, whose collective accomplishments reflected in the report bring distinction to the IUB Libraries.

IUSM Libraries acquire Lippincott Williams and Wilkins online journal archive

The IU School of Medicine Libraries have acquired the Lippincott Williams and Wilkins Journal Legacy Archive on behalf of IU. This includes more than 3 million pages of archival research from over 200 journals in nursing, medicine, and healthcare from volume 1, issue 1 of the journals (one as early as 1827) through 1999. The journals are presented in PDF format that can be browsed, and have headers and abstract that can be searched in Journals@Ovid. The archive complements the university's current subscription to Lippincott Williams and Wilkins Total Access collection in Ovid that includes access to articles from 1999 to the present.

For a complete list of the acquired journals, email James Morgan at morganj@iupui.edu.

Cravens family papers, 1891-1972, Collection C50: The John W. Cravens family were Indiana University alumni and employees. John William Cravens arrived in Bloomington in 1885 to attend Indiana University, where he earned his AB in History in 1897 and AM in Journalism in 1920. While pursuing his undergraduate degree, Cravens was appointed University Registrar, a position he held until his retirement in 1936, in addition to University Secretary, 1915-1936 and Secretary of the Board of Trustees, 1898-1936. His second wife, Mellie Parker Greene, also attended Indiana University. Upon her arrival in Bloomington in 1906, Mellie secured a job in the University Library but the following year found a position as secretary to President William Lowe Bryan. She remained an administrative employee of Indiana University until 1954. Ruth Ralston Cravens, daughter of John Cravens from his first marriage, graduated from Indiana University in 1920. She served as an administrative assistant to IU President Herman B Wells from 1942-1956. This collection consists of the papers of the John W. Cravens family, including John's speeches, research and draft articles on the history of Indiana University, the IU trustees, and his Educational publicity article. Ruth's papers consist entirely of correspondence, but the material from Mellie includes speeches and biographical material. (1.2 cubic feet)

Avis Tarrant Burke papers, 1858-1984, Collection C96: Avis Tarrant Burke was the wife of Indiana University fine arts professor Robert E. Burke. Avis was active with the IU Extension Division and wrote several articles for its bulletin. Together she and Robert traveled extensively, which served as the subject of articles she wrote for the Bloomington newspaper from 1932-1953. After her husband's death, Avis developed a reputation for her philanthropic work, including her donation of nineteenth-century clothing and eighteenth and nineteenth-century fans to Indiana University, which now comprises a core part of the Elizabeth Sage Costume Collection at IU. The collection consists of correspondence, files on groups and organizations with which Burke was involved, essays, articles, general and travel diaries, as well as a small amount of records from the Tarrant family, including 19th century love letters written to Avis's mother, Avis Booth Tarrant. (2 cubic feet)
