EAD TIPS & TRICKS: CONVERTING DATA BETWEEN MARC AND EAD - WEB SEMINAR

The Libraries EAD Working Group, Digital Library Program, and Library Electronic Text Resource Service are sponsoring a Society of American Archivists Web Seminar on "EAD Tips & Tricks: Converting Data between MARC and EAD."

The seminar will be held Tuesday, July 19, 1-2:30pm, in Wells Library E174.

Please RSVP to Jenn Riley (jenlrile@indiana.edu) by Monday, July 18 if you plan to attend, so that we may ensure we have workshop handouts for everyone.

See below for further information on the content of the seminar:

Does your institution want to leverage its investment in MARC or EAD?

Do you want to be able to convert from MARC to EAD? or vice versa without re-keying in multiple formats? Sign up for this seminar and get a review of basic theoretical and technical issues involved in converting data between EAD and MARC.

During this seminar you'll get:

- * Step-by-step instructions for
 - o Converting MARC to EAD;

o Converting EAD to MARC and,

* Ideas for customizing the standard conversion tools for your institution;

* An overview of the process for similar conversions among other metadata standards such as EAD, Dublin Core, and MODS.

Who Should Participate? Processing archivists, catalogers, and web and other technical support staff who work with MARC or EAD documents.

James H. Rudy papers, 1923-1958: James H. Rudy was an Indiana University alumnus who was granted an AB in English in 1932. In his will Rudy left the bulk of his estate to Indiana University, which was used to begin and fund the Rudy Professorships to attract and retain outstanding faculty. Collection consists of papers brought together after Rudy's death by the Owensboro, Kentucky law firm Wilson and Wilson, who represented Rudy's friends and lawyer when his sister, Sarah Gray Rudy McNulty, contested his will. Collection includes notes, correspondence, journals and ledgers, depositions, and legal papers. The depositions include Rudy's family and friends in addition to Indiana University Vice President and Treasurer Joseph A. Prominent correspondents include Rudy's mother-in-law Grace Blair, his mother Katherine F. Rudy, his sister Sarah McNulty, and family friends Linda and Charles Boswell.

REMINDER: OneSearch@IU IS BRINGING CHANGES TO LIBRARY WEB PAGES! On Thursday evening, July 14, 2005, we will change the library web pages to integrate our federated search software into the library web site.

On the Find Information pages we will incorporate federated search sources into the subject listings of databases and make available from the Find Information page a new QuickSearch page that will allow users to search in 8 general interest journal indexes. We will also have a screen where users can select from any of the databases currently enabled for federated searching, called All OneSearch Sources.

The Recommended Resources pages for Libraries, Collections and Departments will also enable users to do a federated search.

Plan to come to one of the open meetings where we will show off the new screens and answer your questions.

Wednesday, July 20 at 10:00 am

The sessions will be held in Room E174 in the Wells Library

Please plan to join us for one of these sessions!

WALDEN SUMMER SESSION

Walden University's Summer Session will begin on Sunday, July 10, and will end on Friday, July 23. More than 650 doctoral students have registered and look forward to availing themselves of the IUB Libraries' rich array of resources. Staff from Walden's Minnesota office are already here and faculty will be coming in throughout the rest of the week.

Walden's graduation will take place in the IU Auditorium on Saturday, July 16, at 11:00 a.m. The IU community is more than welcome to attend.

Although Walden students may check out IU books while they are here, they are not permitted to take the books home. Please help us reinforce the policy of their leaving the books here when they leave.

Here is our Summer Session site, which we hope you find informative and interesting:

<http://www.lib.waldenu.edu/summer/>

If you have questions, please do not hesitate to contact us, 855-6028 or waldenlb@waldenu.edu.
